Victim Ends Life--Bunce To Be Sentenced Tuesday

The shadow of tragedy added its darkness to the sensational case of confessed swindler John H. Bunce Jr. when 64-year-old Paul H. Haller, building contractor who lost $19,400 he gave to Bunce to invest for him in August, shot and killed himself with a shotgun in the back yard of his home at 1000 Walnut Drive, Lafayette, last Sunday morning.

Bunce, whose home is at 14 Cascade Lane, Orinda, is scheduled to be sentenced Tuesday in Alameda County Superior Court. He has pleaded guilty to one count of embezzling and to one count of viollating the corporate securities act.

Oakland Police Inspector Lester King said that Haller's suicide will port concerning Bunce now being port concerning unce now being prepared. King estimated losses by nearly 60 customers of Bunce at over $500,000.

Bunce has been in Alameda County jail, awaiting sentence, since he could not make $10,000 bail. The 34-year old former wartime bomber pilot was arrested September 16, on complaint of Arthur Johnson, Walnut Creek real estate man, who charged that Bunce had swindled him out of $20,000 he (Johnson) had given Bunce to invest.

HALLER RECENTLY told Inspector King that he had given $19,400 to Bunce in August for investment. Haller's wife, Eleanor, told Contra Costa County sheriff's deputies that her husband had been despondent and apparently on the verge of nervous breakdown since learning of Bunce's "bucket shop" operations.

Haller's body was discovered by his son-in-law, Marvin Ortez, who lives next door at 1010 Walnut Drive. Mrs. Haller told deputies her husband had risen early Sunday morning and had prepared his own breakfast. Shortly afterward a detonation sounded from outside the house. Mrs. Haller then went to the closet where her husband usually kept his 12-gauge shotgun. The gun was gone. She phoned Ortez.

SHORTLY afterward Mrs. Haller and Ortez came upon a note from Haller in the closet from which the gun had been taken. The note read:

"Dear Eleanor: It is a case of a mental institution for the rest of my life or this way out. Oh, how I have suffered. God forgive ne. I can't pull myself out of this ness. Paul."

Funeral services for Haller were conducted Wednesday morning at the Chapel in the Valley, 985 Thomson Road, Lafayette, with the Rev. Phillip J. Daunton of St. Micahel's and All Angels Church of Concord officiating.

Entombment followed at Mt. View Cemetery, Oakland.

Haller had hoped to retire next year. His widow told Inspector King that a doctor whom Haller had recently visited had advised her husband, "Forget your losses and keep busy."

BUNCE had been vice-president of the Pacific States Securities Company in Oakland.

The Oakland Police Department has asked that all persons who suspect that they may have lost money in transactions with Bunce, to contact the department.

Maximum penalty on the charges to which Bunce has pleaded guilty is 10 year in jail and $10,000 fine for grand theft and five years in jail and $5000 fine for violation of the corporate securities act.

WITH THE HALLER suicide still making headlines, District Attorney J. Frank Coakley of Alameda County angrily declared that a San Francisco newspaper was "capricious, unfair and inaccurate" in accusing Coakley's office of "soft handling" of the swindle case against Bunce.

A similar accusation had been of Walnut Creek, representing Dr. Edward Moore, Walnut Creek dentist who claimed that Bunce had made by Attorney John Nejedly swindled him out of $10,000.

Dr. Moore had stated that when he tried to sign a complaint against Bunce, he was told that the authorities "didn't want any more complaints—one was enough."

FOLLOWING Nejedly's charge, Inspector King pointed out that all complaints were being fully investigated and urged all persons who suspected Bunce of victimizing them to come forward.

Nejedly then said he was satisfied that the prosecution was being conducted properly.

Coakley's remarks were made during a talk Tuesday to the Oakland Junior League. The district attorney stressed that the Oakland police had obtained a guilty plea from Bunce only seven days after Bunce's arrest.

Coakley added that all offenses will be considered before sentence is imposed.

Church May Up Land in Trade, Directors Told

The Board of Directors of the Orinda Association was informed Monday night that the Orinda Community Church is favorably considering increasing from eight to 10 acres the land area it is willing to trade for 5½ acres of of the association's Orinda Community Center land.

This report was made by Bob Walpole, chairman of the lands committee of the association board. His report was based on a church meeting which had been attended by Fred Twining, association vice-president.

WALPOLE EXPLAINED to the association directors, at their regular meeting at Orinda School, that the church group was considering adding two more acres to the land planned for trade with the association, so as to give the association right-of-way easement to the eight-acre portion at the northwest quadrant of the Crossroads, which the association plans to develop for Community Center land purposes.

The church plans to buy land northwest of the Crossroads from the East Bay Utility District.

The present Community Center land, between the Orinda School and the church property, would be used by the church for its expansion needs.

Excluded from any trade arrangements is a 1½-acre parcel of Community Center land at Orinda Highway and Irwin Way, which is reserved for a new Orinda Library building.

Walpole told the association board that the new offer of the church would, if formalized, be presented to the association board October 28.

THE ASSOCIATION directors dissolved its incorporation committee, with an expression of "real appreciation" for the work done in fulfilling the Orinda Association's responsibility — getting the incorporation issue before the voters, without taking sides.

Association President Gene Estes said that the committee members would reorganize as a committee for incorporation, independent of the association.

PRELIMINARY discussion was held regarding the annual election to be held later this year, of association directors. It was decided to keep the same directorship-district boundaries as last year.

Directors whose two-year terms are expiring the end of this year are Estes, Mrs. Ritchie Ward, Holland DuBois, Marvin Baker and Walpole. Estes will continue on next year's board as a director-at-large.

Directors whose terms will have another year to run are Twining, Art Flint, Norman Cunningham and Mrs. Douglas Adie.

Chamber Proposes 300-Car Parking Lot for Orinda

Orinda may soon boast a 300-car parking lot for commuters and shoppers at the Crossroads should plans of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce meet with the approval of several governmental and civic agencies.

Tuesday at the Casa Orinda at the regular meeting of the chamber, members heard a proposal by Horace Breed of the Orinda Parking Authority suggesting the merchants might support the development of a roadway and parking lot on the proposed community center site.

BREEDS SUGGESTION depends on the decision of the Orinda Association if it trades properties with the Orinda Community Church. He further suggested that the county be approached to see if it would assist in the planning and engineering of the site and he reported East Bay Municipal Utility District was in the process of exploring road costs for the parking lot.

As a method of keeping up repairs on the parking lot, Breed suggested that an annual assessment be made on the persons who use the lot, or some other similar arrangement insuring the perpetual maintenance of the parking area.

He noted that the land used for the parking lot would be the portion which would go unused for community buildings.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company will also be contacted to determine if its property on the southern side of the interchange would be available for parking purposes.

STAN ALLEN, chamber member, urged that now is the time to give the matter of the proposed parking lot the fullest consideration and to try and arrange a meeting of the property owners in the area crossroads to see if they are in favor of the proposal.

Secretary Clarence Betz informed chamber members that Donald D. Chamberlin, assistant Public Works director for maintenance; Ray Thayer of the County Planning Staff and Art Seeley, agricultural commissioner, had called on him October 8 and were planning a pilot program for landscaping along Bryant Way.

The county officials informed Betz they were seriously considering the program as a study for other areas of the county. The responsibility for maintenance of the landscaping project would fall on the chamber or some other local group, they said.

Phil Gustafson, local manager of EBMUD, told Betz a water main ran along Bryant Way so therefore there would be no problem of supplying water to the plants and shrubs should they be planted there.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the chamber voted to send out membership Cards; appointed John Ogden to supervise the decoration of the Christmas Tree at the Interchange and head the report of recent board of directors meeting.

Ernest Poll and Bud Leiber were directed by President Maynard Buehler to study the pros and cons of a proposed credit exchange or bureau for Orinda.

TROPHY in the contest conducted among Orinda school children by the Orinda Fire Department during Fire Prevention Week was awarded last weekend to Glorietta School, the winner. Among those at the presentation ceremony at the school were, left to right, adults William Koch, fire marshal; Mrs. Margaret Anderson, principal; Frank Isola, physical education and recreation director for the Orinda School District, and Joseph L. Sheaff, district superintendent, and proud students Peter Vaughan, Jill Winters and Lenny Tyson. —Sun photo by Harry Maroulas

Supervisors Vote To Delay Ballot For More Protests

Orinda's chances of becoming a city by February 1 and getting on the 1958-59 tax rolls died Tuesday morning in Martinez, according to a time schedule prepared by Walter Paasch, county clerk.

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors unanimously approved a motion by Second District Supervisor Mel Nielsen to continue the hearings on the proposed incorporation of Orinda so that the residents may have more time to file formal protests against incorporation and/or file for exclusion of property from the proposed city limits.

THE SUPERVISORS will review written protests and petitions for exlusion next Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. and will hold another public hearing October 30 at 9 a.m. in the supervisorial chambers in Martinez.

Paasch's time schedule shows that the latest possibel date that an election could be held so that Orinda could get on the tax rolls should the people vote in favor of incorporation would be January 7. This is due to time requirements of legal advertising, etc.

The next two weeks would be used for the filing and counting of absentee ballots, said Paasch. The proponents of incorporation for Orinda were under the impression that an election could be held as late as January 21 to get Orinda on the tax rolls.

Early in the one and a half hour session, Ernest Spiegl, chairman of the Orinda Incorporation Committee, noted to the board that the proponents would rather see the election delayed than have the board render a decision without giving itself enough time to carefully weigh each request for exclusion and protests against the incorporation itself.

NIELSEN CONCURRED with Spiegl in saying that the board could not possibly render a decision in just one hearing, but, said he was sure the board would act as quickly as possible, considering the tremendous work load the board has before it, on the incorporation matter.

Spiegl balked at the idea of delaying the board's decision so that time could be afforded for additional studies which are expected to be completed late this month.

"Studies have been going on for the past seven years and I would seem to imagine that they will continue to be conducted right up to the day of election. The people of Orinda will have ample opportunity of getting all the facts which have been previously published and will be published during the heat of an election campaign," he stated.

RAY S. TAYLOR, chairman of the board of supervisors, agreed with Spiegl by noting that Orinda incorporation had been a matter of discussion and study during the 14 years that Taylor has been a member of the county board.

Asked by the board what the proper procedure for exclusion from the proposed city is, Tom McBride assistant District Attorney, said:

"Persons seeking exclusion or protesting the incorporation itself should file petitions or letters with the County Clerk, as soon as possible. Persons may either seek exclusion, which remains under the sole jurisdiction of the board of supervisors, and/or protest the incorporation.

Should owners of 51 per cent of the assessed land value of Orinda protest the incorporation, the board would not be able legally to call any election on incorporation.

McBRIDE EMPHASIZED that the 51 per cent included just assessed land value and not improvements.

Not one formal protest against the incorporation itself was filed Tuesday, but several spectators said they would protest the incorporation as well as seek exclusion from the proposed city.

Most persons seeking exclusion live in so-called fringe area and not one major utility company sought exclusion or protested the incorporatin for any of its property from Orinda proper. Fringe exclusions were requested, however.

(See separate story on persons and companies seeking exclusion from the proposed city limits.)

PAASCH WAS instructed to prepare a map showing what properties seek exclusion and to prestent this map to the board Tuesday. Persons filing petitions of protest of inclusion were urged by Paasch to include a complete description of their property or of all properties of owners listed on a petition so that exact note could be made of the particular properties involved.

Supervisors Asked To Furnish 'City' With Road Service

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors was asked by Ernest Spiegl, chairman of the Orinda Incorporation Committee, to adopt a resolution of intention offering to contract for road maintenance if Orinda should become a city.

The county has adopted a policy whereby it will contract with new cities to provide services at cost.

SPIEGL ASKED that Orinda be provided the services at cost plus 10 percent. He proposed a contract which would run over a period of years be prepared and that Orinda be charged on the basis of expenditures the year before it is incorporated.

A general statement of the road maintenance in Orinda over past years and reasons for fluctuation in repairs were also requested by Spiegl. He requested that the county also furnish average yearly costs for road repairs in Orinda.

Spiegl commented that he felt the cost of road maintenance is one of the most controversial aspects of the incorporation proposal.

THE COUNTY board of supervisors will review written protests against incorporation of Orinda and requests of exclusions from the proposed city of Orinda Tuesday in Martinez.

A public hearing on the matter will be held October 30, 9 a.m. in the Hall of Records Building, Martinez.

Formal Requests for City Exclusion Filed with Co.

Approximately 14 formal requests for exclusion from the proposed city limits of Orinda were filed with the County Board of Supervisors Tuesday in Orinda.

Among those seeking exclusion from the city are Henry J. Kaiser Company, East Bay Municipal Utility District, Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Several contractors and residents of so-called fringe areas of Orinda.

GEORGE GORDON, attorney for Kaiser, charged that his company had not been informed of the proposed incorporation of Orinda.

Ernest Spiegl, chairman of the Orinda Incorporation Committee, said that he had contacted the Kaiser Company as had a good many other members of the committee to seek the company's signature requesting an election for incorporation be called by the county board of supervisors.

Gordon agreed that Kaiser is a large company and perhaps "its left hand did not know what its right was doing." Gordon filed for exclusion of 500 acres of the Kaiser quarry.

"Good business would dictate that to determine the boundaries a study should be made of the entire area. Kaiser would like to have time to study and make an analysis of the entire situation prior to any election being even caller," said Gordon.

RAY S. TAYLOR or Bud Buchanan and Mel Nielsen agreed that a decision could not be made that same day on the exclusion requests but, that there had been numerous studies made over the years and facts were available to the public. Spiegl commented additional information would be forthcoming from several independent groups on the proposed incorporation.

Harold Rains, attorney for EBMUD properties on the fringe areas of Orinda. He noted the EBMUD would not protest the incorporation movement itself.

The following properties of EBMUD were listed by the utility for exclusion.

1.2600 acres of 6400 acres of the San Pablo watershed and about one-third of the reservoir.

2. 305 of 358 acres behind Upper Happy Valley.

3. 360 acres of 930 acres at the Lafayette Reservoir.

4. 975 acres of Siesta Valley near the Broadway Tunnel.

RAINS POINTED out that EBMUD sought exclusion for its fringe area properties since their market value would be affected if portions would be in a city limit while others were left "hanging."

He stated that the Siesta Valley property had already been earmarked for park use and might be unattractive to the regional park district and/or some other government agency should it be incorporated in part by Orinda.

Rains said that EBMUD would not seek exclusion for its filter plant in the "heart of Orinda" or for its 700 acres across from the Pine Grove to the Ridge.

HENRY WORTHINGTON, Pacific Gas and Electric Company district manager, filed exclusion documents for the PG&E's $2 million plus sub station. He also noted the company would not fight incorporation or seek exclusion for its utility system in Orinda proper.

Others seeking exclusion were Ben Johnson of the Monte Vista Improvement Association. Johnson also asked that the election date be postponed until additional studies were made.

HUGO NADANER, after making charges of railroading the incorporation movement and filing for exclusion of 186 acres near the Pine Grove School, commented that if he had the facts he might be all too willing to help out the incorporation movement.

L. J. Gardiner, who has land holdings in the Miner Road area and Kyle Hill area, noted he had purchased property in Orinda because it was under the county form of government and he is happy with the services the county affords to him.

Ed Delaveaga filed a petition for 70 home owners in the upper area of Orinda. Stephen Jensen filed for his 21 acres in the Charles Hill area.

THOMAS ST. HILL asked for the exclusion of five lots in the St. Hill tract. His reason for exclusion was that his properties were in the Lafayette Fire District.

Fred Allen represented 24 home owners on the north side of Monte Vista Drive. Harold Sage represented 26 home owners on the south east portion of Monte Vista Drive.

The supervisors will review written protests against the proposed incorporation of Orinda Tuesday at 10 a.m. and will also consider requests for exclusion from the proposed city.

October 30 at 9 a.m. the supervisors will listen to oral protests against incorporation and pleas for exclusion in a public hearing in the supervisorial chambers, Hall of Records, Martinez.

Orinda Can't Get on Tax Rolls in '58

Orinda's chances of becoming a city by February 1 and getting on the 1958-59 tax rolls died Tuesday morning in Martinez, according to a time schedule prepared by Walter Paasch, county clerk.

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors unanimously approved a motion by Second District Supervisor Mel Nielsen to continue the hearings on the proposed incorporation of Orinda so that residents may have more time to file formal protsests against the incorporation and/or file for exclusion of property from the proposed city limits.

THE SUPERVISORS will review written protests and petitions for exclusion Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. in the supervisorial chambers in Martinez.

Paasch's time schedule which was presented to Ernest Spiegl, chairman of the Orinda Incorporation Committee, shows the latest possible date that an election could be held so that Orinda could get on tax rolls would be January 7. This is due to time requirements of legal notices and the like.

The Orinda Committee had gone under the assumption that January 21 would be time enough to be included in the 1958-59 tax rolls by the State.

ORINDA WILL lose about $26,000 by not getting on the tax rolls until fiscal year 1959-1960 in local taxes. The deadline does not affect the possible formation of a City of Orinda if the voters approve the proposed city at the polls.

Flu Virus Hits Elementary Schools; Miramonte OK

Asian flu or the garden variety flu have hit the elementary schools in Orinda hard, but there seems to be little trouble with the virus at Miramonte High School, where attendences are only slightly reduced from normal.

Mrs. Margo Bengston, Orinda School District health consultant, said that absences in the Pine Grove Intermediate School have risen to about 20 per cent of its total student population of 578.

She added however that much of this is due to "ordinary" flu, rather than the virus allegedly imported from Asia.

The absences due to flu have taken a jump in the entire district. The rate was about 7 per cent a few weeks ago but has jumped to 15 per cent.

The greatest problem seems to be at Sleepy Hollow School, where 131 pupils of the 551 total enrollment were absent on the official count, Monday.

The rate has been "climbing steadily" according to Mrs. Bengston.

Here are the total enrollment and absences at each school, taken last Monday: Pine Grove, 578-84; Del Rey, 629-65; Glorietta, 420-35; Orinda, 498-34; Sleepy Hollow, 551-131.

At Miramonte High School, the absence rate is only slightly higher than the five per cent average. This has been the case since the flu virus began its rounds several weeks ago.

In fact, the total absences now are slightly less than those of two weeks ago.

There are 650 students at Miramonte. About 45 to 50 students are absent each school day.

3 Inches Rain Boost Total

Nearly three inches of rain this week in Orinda raised the total to 4.93, measured from the beginning of the "weather year," July 1.

The recent rainfall amounted to 2.92 inches, nearly evenly divided between Sunday night and the night of October 10.

Here are the readings:

	high	low
October 10	71	54
October 11	68	50
October 12	64	50
October 13	67	51
October 14	70	46

Moraga to Vote November 19 On School Loan

The voters of the Moraga School District will decide on November 19, in a special election, whether to authorize the District Board of Trustees to borrow up to $1,500,000 from the state for construction of a new school building.

Deputy District Attorney Charles Hemmings told The Sun yesterday that a two-thirds vote will be required for passage, just as in a bond issue election.

The November 19 election will not have a bond issue proposal on the ballot, because the district is already bonded to capacity, Charles E. Toll, principal of Moraga School, explained.

Purpose of and reasons for the proposed authorization to borrow up to $1,500,000 from the state were explained to some 75 persons in attendance at last Monday night's regular school board meeting at Moraga School.

CC County Gas War Goes To Department of Justice

Contra Costa's up and down gas war found itself in the hands of the Federal Government Tuesday as Attorney General Edmond G. (Pat) Brown asked the Department of Justice to investigate an implement a federal anti-trust suit.

The gas wars have been spreading through the Bay Area and other portions of the state for nine years, according to a report from the Attorney General's office.

BROWN SAID numerous complaints have been made to his office including the following charges:

1. Temporary lowering of prices in certain areas is used by oil companies to rid themselves of gasoline refined from excess imports of crude oil.

2. Oil companies maintain exorbitant prices outside of the gas war areas after the war is over.

3. Rebates and consignment contracts are used to maintain the gas wars.

4. Specific high prices are forced on service stations by the threat of loss of rebates of business.

Brown listed the charges in a letter to the Assistant United States Attorney General Victor Hansen.

ON THE LOCAL scene, the major oil companies were charged of disposing of surpluses by the creation of localized gas price wars, maintained and controlled by the companies with respect to price, the duration of the war and the area within which it is confined.

Brown said "In effect, the allegations mount to a charge that the majors dispose of their surpluses through what amounts to small controlled back doors in order to keep intact comparatively high present prices for the overwhelming portion of the public and that in disposing of the surpluses, the majors do irreparable harm to a number of independent small businessmen who operate stations within the areas picked for the wars."

LISTED AS defendants are Standard Oil of California, Shell, Texas, Richfield, General Petroleum, Tidewater, Union and the Conservation Committee of California Oil Producers.

The Department of Justice was urged by Brown to implement a federal anti-trust suit filed some 10 years ago against the major oil companies.

The federal suit offers the best possibility of relief, Brown said, because of the interstate scope of the problems and the amount of work done by Federal attorneys since the filing of the original suit in 1948.

GAS PRICES in Contra Costa remaned about the same this past week in light of the action of the attorney general.

Two stations, one in Pleasant Hill and the other in Lafayette, upped prices from 26.4 cents for regular gasoline to 28.9.

Postal Men Perplexed By Dispute

U. S. Postal authorities may have to "throw the rule book away" to settle the dispute over the naming of the Rheem post office.

The problem arose when a small post office with box service only was established at the Rheem Center, and Moraga community residents objected to the new custom of separately referring to "Moraga" and "Rheem."

Disputes have resulted.

On Sunday, Robert Marshall, post office district manager from Sacramento, and Congressman John Baldwin talked with members of the Moraga Valley Community Club and of the Rheem Merchants Association.

After more than two hourse of discussioin, Marshall said he would inquire about the possibility of classifying the Rheem post office as an annex of the Moraga post office or as a contract station. However, third class post offices, such as Moraga's, usually do not have annexes, he said.

Both the members of the Moraga Valley Club and residents living in the Rheem area have indicated that they wish the Moraga designation to apply to both areas. Official balloting on the question removed any doubts about this.

Marshall said during the meeting that the postal authorities feel that the two designations are all right. But there has been talk of a "boycott" of the Rheem merchants due to the conflict of views.

Library Group To Seek Needed Additional Funds

Perc S. Brown, chairman of the Orinda Library Building Fund, announced yesterday that a portable small-scale model of the proposed library and library site utilization was being created and that it would be used to assist in raising the remainder of necessary funds.

The model will also serve the purpose of helping to keep Orindans posted on progress in local library plans, he said. Brown anticipated that the model would be ready within a week, and he said it will be placed on display at various places in the community.

"There are sufficient funds, of course, to start grading and building as soon as final plans and specifications are ready," Brown said, "and this part of the program is being rushed as much as possible.

WHAT MUST CONCERN us, and also is the cncern of the community, is that in the next several months we must insure—and the community must pitch in, too — that sufficient additional completion, once it has been funds are raised to carry the project through to satisfactory completion, once it has been started.

"We cannot accurately tell yet, although by early December we should know—but it appears that our original estimate of $125,000 will be needed. If this proves to be so, then we still need $40,000 to $50,000 in additional money, and we will have to raise that much more cash.

"We must start now, since we prefer not to have any more long-time pledges—payments on which would come due long after the library had to be built and besides would have to be refinanced at very high interest rates.

"I believe Orinda will do this job and do it well."

BROWN STRESSED that negotiations between the Orinda Association and the Orinda Community Church do not in any way pertain to the 1½-acre site for a new Orinda Library at Orinda Highway and Irwin Way.

The Orinda Library Board announced that its building committee and the architects, Aitken and Collin, expect to present preliminary plans to the Orinda Association for its approval at the association board meeting of November 25.

Terms of th land lease between the Orinda Association and the Orinda Library Board provide for such procedure.

THE LIBRARY BUILDING committee recently reviewed preliminary sketches and drawings for the new Orinda Library which will be built.

Circulation of books at the present Orinda Library, housed in the Orinda Community Church, was 40 per cent higher in September than it was in September, 1956.

Golden Joins Shell

Harold R. Golden of Orinda has joined Shell Development Company's Emeryville, California Research Center as a chemist in the Plastics and Resins Department.

Golden attended Wayne University. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees in Chemistry there in 1943 and 1947.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

It's the little things that count . . .

TWO PINE GROVE PATERS were discussing the delights they are deriving from their daughters switch to uniform dress . . . "No more digestive disturbances, no more frantic phone calls in the morning, no more mad hystrics and missing the schoolbus, no more dripping petticoats draped for drying all over the bathroom, no more Hour of Indecision!"

The conversation, based on Life A.U. (After Uniforms) wound up w/one Daddy-O stating that "for the first time in YEARS, we're all eating breakfast TOGETHER and SMILING. I'd forgotten what it was like!"

The beginning of the school year, one PG teacher remarked that his class looked particularly neat and natty this year . . . Someone asked if he tho't it might be due to the uniforms being worn and our faculty member seemed surprised—"What uniforms? THOSE are uniforms? I tho't all the girls just happened to pick out the same slick outfit."

Don't tell Nancy Davison, but her Gentleman Jim (the Heinz Man) is sending up smoke signals to attract either Indian or Bear or just plain friend who might know where he might find TWO stray tkts. for the Big Game so he and Nance can celeb their Anniversary the way He'd planned it!

Ferrell Wins Special Prize

Mr. J. R. Ferrell of 247 Manzanita Drive, Orinda, is the winner of a special prize, in the Old Craftsman Pine Plywood contest, sponsored by nited States Plywood Corporation. His lumber dealer is the Sun Valley Lumber Company, 3287 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Lafayette.

Prizes valued at more than $10,000 were offered to the several thousand contestants who were judged on the basis of 25-word essay on, "I like Old Craftsman Pine Plywood because."

Supervisors Vote To Delay Ballot

area.," said McBride.

McBride ruled that any and all requests from residents seeking exclusion were in the hands of the supervisors and the supervisors had sole jurisdicion as to their disposition.

Upon this statement, Ed DeLaveaga presented a petition for 70 exclusions in the upper Orinda area and left the petition at the mercy of this honorable board."

SPEIGEL STATED that the loss of tax revenue to the city of Orinda would be approximately 10 per cent since it would not get on the tax rolls until 1959-60. But, he added, this is a small amount of the actual taxes that Orinda will receive should it incorporate.

The estimated figure that Orinda would receive in local taxes were it on the tax rolls would be approximately $26,000, Spiegl said.

Charges of "railroading" against the proponents for incorporation were quickly dismissed by supervisors Taylor and Bud Buchanan of the fourth district, by stating that the studies had been going on long enough and the people will decide at the polls in the near future whether or not they wish Orinda to be an incorporated city.

Taylor thanked the residents who attended the session, urging them to file exclusions and protests as quickly as possible to get the incorporation matter on the ballot as quickly as possible.

Fund Will Help Church School Get New Rooms

At a noon luncheon Tuesday, October 29, John Wheatman from Jackson's will present the subject "Decorating on a Budget."

His illustrated talk will be on personalized interiors, with the emphasis on "people proof" rooms.

The luncheon will be held at the Orinda Willows and is spnosored by the women of the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church. The ladies are planning and preparing a delicious meal.

THE FREE WILL offering will go towards new Sunday School rooms through the building fund.

Pastor Albert S. Hidy says, "Our facilities are already inadequate, and more and more students are enrolling every month."

The ladies of the church are extending invitations to women of all denominations, suggesting that perhaps there are many women who have been saving "Let's all get together sometime for lunch."

THE LADIES suggest that there may be bridge groups, sewing clubs or neighborhood groups who wish to attend.

Mrs. Esther Shepard or Mrs. Lea Baptista are taking reservations.

Bryant Talks To Rotarians

Harold Bryant, secretary of the club, addressed the Orinda Rotary Club Wednesday noon at the Orinda Willows. He told of a successful experiment conducted last summer at Grand Teton National Park in Montana and Wyoming, where 16 college students — five girls and 11 boys—donated their services.

These students worked there, receiving only room and board but no pay.

Bryant, an Orinda resident, was formerly assistant superintendent of the National Park System and then for 20 years was superintendent of Grand Canyon National Park.

At next Wednesday's luncheon meeting of Orinda Rotary at the Orinda Willows at 12:15 p.m. the guest speaker will be Robert Hanna, executive secretary of the Northern California Amateur Golfing Association.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Miramonte, a school of many firsts, has this year its first exchange students.

Agneta Persson, from Sweden, and Ebehard Umbach, from Germany, arrived this summer.

The students of Miramonte have tried to make them feel at home in their adopted country.

When asked what he thought of Miramonte and America, Eberhard replied, "It is a wonderful school. I like it very much."

Nettie feels that school here is much easier, because in Sweden they have 14 solids and go to school on Saturdays, besides.

The classroom atmosphere is more congenial, and she is impressed by the number of extra-curricular activities.

RALLY TALK

Mrs. Sig Groennings, chairman of the American Field Service committee in Orinda, announced at a rally September 27 the coming AFS event next Thursday at Miramonte High School auditorium.

At the same rally, the cheer leaders and the pom-pom girls made their debut.

This year's cheer leaders are Vickie McCosker, head yell leader; Paige Anderson and Karen Verwer.

The pom-pom girls are Sue Holmes, leader; Linda Benson, Judy Bartlett, Lynnie Ballard, Kathy Shurtleff and Marge Williams.

The girls did a routine to "The Happy Whistler" and one to Miramonte's school song.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Supplementing football is cross-country track. Miramonte harriers took Pacific High in both J.V. (22-23) and varsity (25-33).

The Block M football dance, to be held tonight at Miramonte, will feature this year's king and queen of the football season.

Orinda AAUW To Hear Talks On Fellowships

Mrs. S. S. Philbrick of Mill Valley will be guest speaker at a general meeting of the Orinda Branch, American Association of University Women, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, at the Glorietta School.

Mrs. Philbrick will tell the group of her research work as a National Fellow of AAUW. National Fellowships are awarded to outstanding American scholars for work on Ph.D. dissertations or post-doctorial research.

Mrs. F. G. Cook, Fellowship chairman, will also introduce Miss Sybil Swartz, a member of the State Fellowship Committee, who will explain the AAUW Fellowship program.

The neighboring AAUW branches — Walnut Creek, Concord, Antioch, Pleasant Hill, Livermore, Oakland and Martinez—have been invited to share the program with the Orinda club. Guests are welcome.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mesdames P. D. Bush, Carl Meurk, W. R. Zion, W. J. Dodson, C. Z. Maehler, David Barton and J. P. MacDonald.

School Library Help Is Needed

The Orinda Mothers Club library chairman, Mrs. Avraham Yedidia, would like any mother who is willing to help staff the library at "her" school during the regular school day either in the morning or afternoon to contact her or the mother in charge at the local school.

These women are:

Del Rey, Mrs. Edward Law; Glorietta, Mrs. Victor Kingston; Orinda, Mrs. W. F. Williams, assisted by Mrs. John Gilbert; Sleepy Hollow, Mrs. Edwin Byer.

The Orinda Union School District is unique in that full-time librarians are not employed at each school. Instead, the mothers staff the libraries, and there is a head librarian, Mrs. Alice Fredericks.

Will Residents Guarantee $1.4 Millions for Floods?

Are the people of the central Contra Costa County willing to guarantee a contribution of $1,400,000 as a necessary preliminary to detailed planning on the $25 million Federal project to improve waterways and construct levees on the Walnut Creek channel?

This will be a key question to be asked sometime this fall, when the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers will hold a public hearing in Walnut Creek or Concord.

"Tentative conclusions of investigation" will also be presented at the hearing, Colonel A. E. McCollam of the Corps of Engineers told Congressman John Baldwin in a letter sent early this month.

McCOLLUM SAID that no final recommendations have been formed yet, but that the improvements will provide the area with flood protection against a 100 year flood along the main stem of the channel, and against a 50 year flood along the lower reaches of San Ramon and Las Trampas Creeks.

Of the $25 million total, some $5 millions will be necessary for rights-of-way and utility relocation. This amount also will not come out of the national treasury.

McCollam said that, "In the past for similar projects, this responsibility has been assumed by the State of California."

The $1,400,000 which must be raised locally will go for "land enhancement benefits accruing to the project," in McCollam's words.

HE ADDED THAT, "Local interests will also be required to maintain and operate the project after completion, and to hold the United States free from damages due to construction and operation of the project."

A meeting was held several months ago for local leaders. They indicated that they will be able to promise that the $1,400,000 will be raised. No specific method has been announced yet.

Inquiries about federal aid for flood work were submitted before and during the winter of 1955, when some $2 millions in flood damage were done, locally.

IF PLANS GO smoothly, the U. S. Congress may receive the report on local work in 1959.

Before that it must be reviewed by the Corps of Engineers division engineer, the chief of engineers, the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, the governor of California, the Secretary of the Army and the Bureau of the Budget.

Independent Status, New Building is YMCA Goal

Young Mens Christian Association leaders are seeking a name for their new independent YMCA organization in central Contra Costa County.

They have conducted a contest with prizes totaling $75 for suggestions for the organization's name. The deadline for submissions of names is today, according to Elroy Condeff, board president.

The Y office is located at 1537 Sunnyvale Avenue, Walnut Creek.

EMMET MEYERS of Concord is chairman of the contest. He is assisted by Reverend Robert Varlow of Walnut Creek and Charles Kersten of Orinda.

The YMCA, a beneficiary of the United Crusade, has been functioning in this area since the fall of 1951 as a branch of the Berkeley Y. However, the phenomenal growth and success of the "Y" program has made it essential to function as an independent organization, Condeff said.

"The topnotch leadership shown by our Men's Club, the "Y" Indian Guides, and the "Y" Clubs has been outstanding. We have received their loyal support since we opened our doors six years ago.

"Now we have the usual growing pains with our full-scale expansion problem requiring a large building. I am confident we will receive continued active support from our friends," he said.

IN 1951 JOHN PRICE, executive director, was sent here on a part-time basis from the Berkeley Y. In the fall of 1952 the National Council of YMCA recognized the group as a full branch. Price's services were extended to full-time. The geographical area was designed, and a functioning lay board of management was established.

The member constituency consisted of the Men's Club; "Y" Indian Guide tribes; Hi and Tri-Y; and Gra-Y Clubs. The Indian Guides are for boys from 6 to 9 years; Hi and Tri-Y for boys and girls in high school age bracket; and Gra-Ys for children from 9 to 12.

The United Crusade member agency has as its staff Don Krampe, program director in charge of the Concord area; and Mrs. Virginia Collins, office secretary.

Price said, "Over 3000 young people participated in more than 100 groups during the past year. We feel that our program of encouraging comradship between sons and their dads; developing leadership for civic and community service is an important part of our program."

The executive committee consists of Elroy Condeff of Walnut Creek, chairman; Ted Barcelon of Lafayette, vice-chairman; Ted Taylor of Orinda, vice-chairman; Walker McKevitt of Walnut Creek, secretary; Reed L. Buffington of Martinez, treasurer; and Henry F. Stout of Concord, chairman of the Concord board.

Officers of the Men's Club are Jake Jonker of Walnut Creek, president; George Dibble of Walnut Creek, vice president; Steven Evans of Walnut Creek, secretary; and Harold Queen, treasurer.

Scout, Cub Leadership Being Taught

Adult training courses for Cub Scout and Boy Scout leaders are being held. Robert Jackson, assistant district executive of Meridian District, is working with the training teams.

Cub leader training courses are being given in Walnut Creek each Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 104 of Las Lomas High School. Albert J. Meade, former cubmaster and now assistant district commissioner for Cub Roundtables will teach.

The course each week is repeated at the Stanley School for leaders who reside in the Orinda-Moraga-Lafayette areas. These sessions will be next Thursday, October 23 and 30, November 7 and 14.

A make-up session of the first night's program for Cub leaders will be offered in Walnut Creek at the Las Lomas High School on October 29. This will be in addition to the regular course scheduled for that evening.

Boy Scout leaders are training under John Waddell of Lafayette, at the Stanley School on the same nights as Cub courses are conducted. Also assisting with Scoutmaster training is Arthur J. Sillers, Walnut Creek, who is Assistant District Commissioner for Scouting Roundtables.

Explorer leaders, both adults and elected leaders in Crews and Posts, will receive credit for taking part in an Explorer Leaders' Conference, scheduled for November 9 at Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek.

Active sports, such as archer, fly and bait casting, canoe making and the canoeing merit badge requirements will be featured.

It will be an all-day conference from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., and is open to explorers designated by each advisor, adult leaders and committeemen related to the Explorer program. Don Dickson, Advisor of Post 223, Lafayette, is director of the conference.

Dramateurs Score Again With 'Harry'

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

The Dramateurs have done it again—meaning that, once more, they are presenting high-quality dramatic fare.

This time the expertly performed opus is "Uncle Harry," by Thomas Job, at the Berkeley Little Theater, Allston Way at Grove Streets, Berkeley.

The play is a suspense drama 'in reverse"—that is, you know right from the start who the guilty person is.

So the suspense is built up via delineations of character, mood and introspection, and not via the "whodunnit" approach.

THERE ARE TWO performances of "Uncle Harry" left—tonight and tomorrow night. Curtain time is 8:30.

Initial presentations were given last Friday and Saturday nights.

Under the direction of Carl Rasmussen (who has been assisted by Mary Tokich and Betty Reynolds), the cast does a splendid job.

EDDIE WOLTZ, who is becoming quite familiar as an actor of top ability, is excellent in the leading role of Uncle Harry.

As his two sisters, Peg Stanislawsky (Hastor) and Helen Blankenburg (Lettie) help create a strong picture of a bitter, frustrated family.

Jean Henderson as Nona, the maid, turns a minor role into one of major proportions, through her consummate skill as an actress.

AND SHE DOES this without detracting from the main emphasis of the drama and without shoving any of the other performances aside, figuratively or literally.

Jane Steele, Diane Davis, James Harris, Colon Brown and Robert Swenning are among the others who do a near-professional job.

The setting of "Uncle Harry" is a small town, 1909-1912. The set designs are effective and give the definite impression of authenticity.

Frances Ruderman Now B'Nai Ramah Youth President

Frances Ruderman of Concord has been elected president of B'Nai Ramah, the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center Teen-Age group organized to stimulate participation in a social, cultural, and religious program of activities.

Other officers for 1957-1958 are Vivian Shay of Walnut Creek, vice president; Devra Abend of Orinda, corresponding secretary; Tina Dinkin of Walnut Creek, recording secretary; and Bernice Zuckerman of Walnut Creek, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Barbara Wiseman of Lafayette, Social; Roger Martin of Lafayette, Ways and Means; Sandy Sherman of Walnut Creek, Membership; and David Schwartz of Lafayette, Religious. Serving as youth adviser will be Dave Zuckerman of Walnut Creek.

Tomorrow the B'Nai Ramah will hold a progressive dinner party honoring members whose birthdays occur in October. Starting at 5 p.m., members wearing jeans and ginghams, will gather for a truck ride to the homes of Dr. and Mrs. Morris Collen of Walnut Creek for hors-d'-oeuvres; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Zuckerman of Walnut Creek for salad; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wiseman of Lafayette for spaghetti and meat balls; and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Martin of Lafayette for dessert and dancing.

Acting as chairman for the progressive dinner party will be Bernice Zuckerman of Walnut Creek. She will be assisted by Devra Abend of Orinda, Barbara Wiseman and Roger Martin of Lafayette, and Arnie Collen of Walnut Creek.

All B'Nai Ramah members are invited to attend the party.

Art Group To Elect Officers

Mrs. Frances Whitman of Danville, who has been secretary of the Diablo Art Association for the past year, is leaving for Mexico City, Mexico, soon. She plans to continue her art studies in the south.

Several members of the Art Association Board gave a farewell luncheon in her honor at the Cape Cod in Lafayette on October 8. Attending were Mesdames Robert Love, Katy Madsen, Jacqui Mattiesen and Mr. and Mrs. Owen Nelson, Miss Mary Way and Mrs. James Lawson.

The Nominating Commitee of the Diablo Art Association is forming a slate of officers for the election in November.

C. G. Culver of Orinda is chairman. Mrs. Roy Albright of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Yvonne Herburt of Concord are helping him choose candidates for the offices of president, vice-president, secretary and bulletin chairman. Nominations will be read at the October general meeting.

One man shows for the month of October, are being held by Hiram Meulendyke at the Mt. Diablo Savings and Loan office in Pittsburg, Doris Whipple of Danville at Comptons in Walnut Creek.

The Village Theatre in Danville is hanging paintings by Mrs. Pat Moran of Orinda. Mrs. Mary Kwiat of Walnut Creek has two gouashe paintings at the Frank Newman Gallery on the Stonestown Mall in San Francisco.

Tom Fraga Sworn in as Sixth Judge

Thomas F. Fraga of Martinez was sworn in Tuesday as Contra Costa County's Sixth Superior Court Judge. Homer W. Patterson, presiding judge, swore Fraga in.

JUDGE FRAGA commented that the appointment was the fulfillment of a life long ambition to be a judge. He said he could remember that as a boy he would deliver newspapers to superior court and at that time he made up his mind to enter the legal profession.

Fraga was judge of the Martinez Judicial District Court prior to his appointment. Fraga will serve with Judges Patterson, Harold Jacoby, who will retire soon; Hugh H. Donovan, Norman A. Gregg and Wakefield Taylor. They were all present at the ceremony.

The oath of office was administered by Walter T. Paasch, county clerk, and the judges made short speeches welcoming Fraga to their ranks.

OTHERS MAKING congratulatory statements were Francis Hoey, president of the Contra Costa County Bar Association; Joseph Genser, president of the Richmond Bar Association; Warren (Bud) Buchanan, supervisor; Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle of Lafayette and District Attorney Francis Collins.

Herbert Avery will be Fraga's court reporter; Mel Thomson, clerk, and George Hinkley, deputy sheriff, will be court bailiff.

Camera Club Meet Wednesday

Dick Redden, color chairman of the Contra Costa Camera Club, said today that Les Mecum of "Razzle Dazzle" photography fame will judge the contest at the next meeting of the club Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Las Lomas High School, room 209.

The public is welcome.

Christian Science

The vital necessity of individual application of the teachings of Christ Jesus will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. The Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill meets at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" is the Golden Text from Psalms (80:19): "Turn us again, O Lord God of hosts, cause thy face to shine; and we shall be saved."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (25:26-31): "Implicit faith in the Teacher and all the emotional love we can bestow on him, will never alone make us imitators of him. We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us."

From the Bible will be read the following (II Corinthians 5:17): "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

Accountants Hold Discussion Forum

The Oakland-East Bay Chapter of the National Association of Accountants held its 1957 fall discussion forum in the Blue and Gold Room of the Hotel Claremont, Berkeley, yesterday.

"Exploring the Cost-Volume-Profit Relationship" was the theme of the all-day sessions.

1181 Solicitors Needed by UC For Home Drive

A total of 1181 solicitors are needed for the residential drive kickoff which will be launched Monday to help collect gift donations to meet the Diablo Valley Residential Division goal of $18,075 in the 1957 United Crusade drive, according to Jack Pedder, Diablo Valley chairman.

While most division chairmen reported at a preliminary meeting held today that they have not only section chairmen but most of the solicitors needed, several areas are still showing "weak spots," Pedder said.

THE GOAL broken down to the area level and division chairmen and co-chairmen in each are: Mrs. Calvin N. Gold and Mrs. Conway Smith Jr. for Orinda, $5775; Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Bailey for Danville, San Ramon, Alamo, $2525; Mrs. Ray Herman and Mrs. J. Elliot Dunn for Lafayette, $4075; Mrs. Harmon Howard for Walnut Creek, $3825, and Mrs. Richard Burton for Pleasant Hill, $1875.

Residents willing to assist in the residential drive are urged to contact the area chairmen or the Crusade offices at 2363 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, YE 4-7657.

Section chairmen for Lafayette are Mesdames Jack Sneider, Lyko Enborn, Charles David, Elmer Layton, Stuart Smith, R. H. Wetmore and Victor L. Peery.

SECTION CHAIRMEN for Walnut rCeek are Mesdames Melvin Melnicoe, Lee Kidwell, James Nutting, Donald Sleeper, Robert Rowe, Donald Shaffer, Lanier Jack Schebasion, Lyle Wilcox, Martin Manders, Del Wilcox, Morrie Thompson, Tudor Jones, E. N. Dotson, Robert Graves, Dyke McKay, Matt Connelly, Ted Beem, Charles Hart,Bruce McKay and Miss Susan McGeehon.

Section chairmen for Pleasant Hill are Mesdames J. V. Deas Jr., Ben Hartinger, E. A. Jalbert, Patrick Byrne and Robert R. Stiles.

Orinda section chairmen are Mesdames R. D. Dalton Jr., P. Philibosian, D. B. Woodcock, Harry R. Clemons Jr., Charles L. Merrell, Gordon French, James Kelley, Hugh Reed, Paul Goodall, C. M. Fish, David Seabury, David Brunson and James Lucas.

Insurance Agents To Meet Monday

Newly installed President Bill Hockins will lead a discussion regarding the activities and function of the Contra Costa County Insurance Association at the monthly meeting Monday evening.

The dinner meeting will begin at 7 at the El Monte Restaurant, in Concord. All interested parties are welcome to attend.

Contra Costa Co. Lead in Crusade Nabbed by Center

Central Contra Costa is leading the county percentagewise in the initial stage of this year's United Crusade drive with a total of $26,960.83 or 19.5 per cent of their goal of $138,632 reported by area chairmen, according to Charles D. Gable of Walnut Creek, Central Contra Costa chairman.

"Donations received during the initial week of our annual one-big-give drive were promising. However, we do feel that next week will be the crucial stage of the campaign and very likely set the pace for the balance of our month long drive," Gable said.

Ray Chapot, chairman of the Martinez committee, reported a total of $10,400.91 or 32 per cent collected with the breakdown being district business, $1054; commerce and industry, $9246.91, and advance gifts and professionals, $100.

Tom Coll, chairman of the Concord committee reported 34 per cent or a total of $12,403.46 received by his division chairmen. District business, $330.50; education, $2298.50; commerce and industry, $9232.96; public employees, $244.50, and advance gifts and professionals, $297.

Jack Pedder reporting on Diablo Valley said that "while returns in our area are slow," the district business in Orinda reported receiving 50 per cent of that division's goal to date.

Donations in excess of $74,318 or 15 per cent of the county goal of $494,500 have been received.

The five county United Bay Crusade's goal is $11,748,000.

Hearings Will Decide Rule on Refrigeration

Three public hearings will be held at the Contra Costa County Health Department for interpretation of the phrase "readily perishable" as it is used in Section 5.5 of the recently passed Food Ordinance.

Restaurant, grocery store and allied food processing or selling establishments have been invited to send representatives to these hearings. The hearings are being held to determine the specific food items which must be maintained under refrigeration at or below 50 degrees fahrenheit.

The meetings will be held on Wednesday, October 30 and November 6 at 2 p.m., Room 303 in the new Health Department building, 1111 Ward Street, Martinez.

Children Will Again Thrill to 'Theatre'

Boys and girls again this year will have the opportunity to see real live plays given locally under the auspices of the East Bay Children's Theatre, Inc.

"Sleeping Beauty" is the first play of the current season and will be given at Lafayette's Stanley School on Saturday, November 9 at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. The play is directed by Jane Bogard and has been especially written for Children's Theatre by Jan Mauser and Travis Bogard.

Other plays planned to delight the hearts of the younger set include "Mr. Dooley Jr.," "The Land of the Dragon," and "The Princess and the Swineherd." Of special interest to "east of the tunnel" audiences; "The Princess and the Swineherd" will feature a cast of Acalanes High School drama students, under the direction of Bert Trulsson.

The East Bay Children's Theatre, Inc. is a non profit organization whose purpose is to provide the thrill of seeing real live plays, especially produced for their interests, for as many children as possible throughout the Bay Area all year long.

Proceeds from the Saturday performances during the season make it possible for the group to provide fine free entertainment for hundreds of children every year who might otherwise not have any.

Many local women donate their time and talents to the making of scenery and costumes under the direction of professional designer Jan Mauser. Volunteers from the community also take part in the plays, stage crew, manage box offices and ticket sales as well as all of the other duties necessary to production of the plays.

Season tickets will be on sale in the schools October 23 and 24 or may be ordered by mail with the attached coupon. For party reservations and information please call Atlantic 3-2941.

PTA Men to Meet Sunday

Men of Parent Teacher Associations will meet Sunday morning at the El Monte Drive-In in Concord.

No speeches are planned, according to Dean Gardette, reservation chairman. Several outstanding PTA men will be on hand to discuss the father's role in the organization.

Special guests are Dr. Dwight Twist, state men's membership chairman; Dr. Will Cluff, 32nd District men's membership; Dr. Drummond McCunn, president of E.C.C.J.C., and Bryan O. Wilson, county superintendent of schools.

Israeli Consul To Talk Monday

Clash of interests and opinions in the Middle East will be explained from the Israeli viewpoint at St. Mary's College at 8 p.m. by Dr. Avraham Biran, Israeli consul-general for the 11 Western states.

Dr. Biran's topic is "Nationalism and Internationalism in the Middle East." The talk will cover Israeli's relations with her Arab neighbors and with the West.

The program is being sponsored by the International Relations Club of the college, under the chairmanship of Robert Kayyem. It will be in De La Salle Lounge and will be open to the public.

Clark's Market Joins in Big Birthday Fete

When Jack and Chet Clark opened Clark's Market three years ago, as the first unit of Rheem Center, they knew what they were doing, all right.

All you have to do to prove that fact to yourself is to visit the popular, thriving shopping center of more than a score of businesses.

That's the extent to which the Center has grown in the three years since the Clark brothers opened their modern supermarket.

ALONG WITH ALL the other merchants of Rheem Center, Jack and Chet Clark, co-owners of Clark's Market, are celebrating the Third Anniversary of the Center—and invite you to the "party."

Besides the many special values in foods—a familiar detail to customers at Clark's—the store will be the setting for festivities that are sure to delight the hearts of youngsters, and of adults, too.

Bo-Bo the Clown will be at Clark's Market all day tomorrow.

The Planter's Peanut Man will be on hand all day today and tomorrow.

A CHILDREN'S AUTO—not a toy, but a real Pontiac electric roadster, valued at $500—will be given away to some lucky youngster this weekend.

Pencils, whistles, crayons and various other gifts will be given free to the kiddies during the birthday celebration.

Jack and Chet Clark are in their 12th year of serving the people of the Orinda-Moraga area and the rest of Central Contra Costa County.

THEIR STORE, like the other establishments in Rheem Center, has a cooling and heating system which makes for comfortable, healthful air-conditoining, regardless of the weather.

As an example of the high caliber of service offered, the grocery department has an assortment of foods for which you'd ordinarily have to go to three different stores.

There are "regular" foods—a complete variety, easy to locate and at reasonable prices.

There are dietetic foods, for persons who want such products. These are plainly marked, so as to be clearly identifiable.

There are fancy foods — those delectables ranging from the festive to the exotic, appealing to the eye as well as to the taste.

The aisles in Clark's Market are wide—there aren't any "traffic jams" among the shoppers.

"WE HAVE the largest produce department in Northern California," Jack Clark says. This self-service department has all sorts of specialty foods.

A complete frozen food department is like a store by iteself. The frozen food section runs for more than 180 feet, continuously.

WHILE THE FROZEN food department resembles a store by itself, it is, of course, just a part of the large Clark's Market—and it's another example of the top-quality service offered at Clark's.

Also at Clark's Market are the well-known T & V Better Meats and the popular T & D Liquors. (See other stories on those establishments.)

It's Personalized Service at T & V Meats

"Personalized service" is the speciality of T & V Better Meats at Clark's Market, along with the best-quality meats.

The well-known meat department is joining in this week's big Third Anniversary celebration of Rheem Center.

"T & V," of course, stands for the names of the owners—Tony Fereira and Vasco Giannini, who have been serving the Orinda-Moraga area and the rest of Central Contra Costa County for the past nine years. The two partners have been at Clark's Market since that supermarket opened three years ago.

ONLY CHOICE AND prime meats, inspected by the United States Department of Agriculture, are sold at T & V Better Meats.

Prices are always reasonable—and the T & V promise of "Satisfaction Guaranteed" means just that: money back if you're not satisfied.

"We invite customers to discuss their menu problems with us," Giannini says. "We will cut any order to the desired thickness. We specialize in meat for your freezer."

To this, Fereira adds: "We sell service. We give your problems our personal attention."

COMPLETE FREEZER service is offered. This includes cutting and wrapping.

Ducks, deer and other game are dressed for hunters.

Poultry and fresh filsh, as well as choice grade meats, are selected by Fereira and Giannini.

Hours at T & V Meats are: Monday and Tuesday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Wednesday, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Thursday and Friday, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.; Sunday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Shop at home and save!

Service, Reputation Both Sparkle at T&D Liquors

T & D Liquors at Clark's Market has a reputation as sparkling as the complete line of liquors and beverages it carries—and justifiably so.

"T & D" stands for the names of the owners, Jim Tosteson and Leighton DeMaeyer, who have been serving the Orinda-Moraga area and Central Contra Costa County for more than 10 years. They have been at Clark's Market since the food store was opened three years ago and are now joining in the Rheem Center celebration.

Frank Kerrigan, president of the Rheem Center Merchants Association, is manager of T & D Liquors.

An extensive line of imported and domestic wines is part of what's offered for sale at the place.

Another feature is a beverage catering service for organizations and groups. This includes the renting of punch bowls and highball glasses and the furnishing of mixing ingredients and ice cubes.

Scientists to Talk to Demos On Bomb Tests

A group of scientists and doctors will speak to the Democratic Club of Orinda on the effects of testing of the H and A bombs, next Friday at the Oak Springs Club House. The panel includes Dr. Everett Dempster, geneticist at the University of California; Dr. Roger Wallace, health physicist at the Radiation Laboratory at U.C., and Dr. Richard Weinerman, M.D., internist practicing in El Cerrito.

Preceding the discussion the group will meet for cocktails and a potluck dinner. The public is invited to attend, and reservations for the dinner are to be made through Mrs. Eleanor Hubner or Mrs. Barbara Reid.

Cocktails will be served at 6:45, and dinner at 8:00 o'clock. Those who find it impossible to come for the dinner will be welcome to come for the program which will be presented afterward.

Orinda 4-H Plans Projects

Officers of the Orinda 4-H Club are:

President, Judy Henderson; vice president, Judy Hopkins; secretary, Alice Monosmith.

The leader is Mrs. R. O. Monosmith, and her assistant is Mrs. T. R. Howes.

A meeting was recently held at the Monosmith home to plan projects for this year. Some projects are clothing, food preparation, vegetable gardens, poultry and rabbits.

Under new business, it was decided to hold a 4-H cake sale at Orinda Crossroads.

New members introduced to the group were Marsha Mjolsnes, Ginny Phair, Carol Thurston, Lois Moxness, Cindy Gravelle, Margret Bodfish, Barbara Bole, Lynn Loveland and Laura Hupp.

The group meets the first Saturday of each month.

You're Invited to Third Anniversary Celebration

Rheem Center celebrates its Third Anniversary this week.

All day today and tomorrow that popular, attractive shopping center will be the setting for an observance in which the participants will be the shopping public of the area, as well as the merchants.

Only three years ago Rheem Center opened with its first unit, Clark's Market.

Today there are more than 20 businesses at Rheem Center, including the new, luxurious Rheem Theater.

PRESIDENT Frank Kerrigan of the Rheem Center Merchants Association extends a welcome to all residents of the area to visit the modern, ultra-convenient shopping center, which is considered one of the most attractive and unusual in Northern California.

Here are some of the special features of Rheem Center, as pointed out by Kerrigan:

It is a complete shopping center—you can do all sorts of shopping right there.

There is ample parking space—so much, in fact, that parking is never a problem.

IT IS CONVENIENTLY located for shoppers from throughout Central Contra Costa County.

All the stores are connected by canopies, so that in rainy weather you can go from one to another without getting wet and without the need of an umbrella.

Each store has a cooling and heating system, making for maximum air-conditioning comfort, no matter what the weather is outside.

MOST OF THE merchants have been serving the area for quite a while, some as long as nearly 12 years, and many of them are local residents.

Music is piped throughout the Center, thus creating a relaxing mood for Mr. and Mrs. Shopper.

A Post Office right at the place makes it easy to take care of your mailings while you are on your shopping tour.

To help celebrate the gala event, the various stores will stage special programs, which appeal to children and adults alike. (See Rheem Center advertisements in this issue.)

Design Center In Larger Place

Design Center, distinctive interior decorating store, participates in the Third Anniversary of Rheem Center by officially opening today at it's greatly enlarged new quarters on Park Street, three door from it's former location.

Owner Louis Rolley points out that his new establishment has 50000 square feet of floor space, as against 1200 square feet at the former place. In addition to offering complete interior decorating service, Design Center features furniture, displayed in an attractive showroom and a furniture refinishing shop.

Rolley, an Orinda resident, opened his first store in Rheem Center in April, 1956. He has had extensive experience in interioir decorating work. His wife, Velma, is a partner with Marion Devin at Moraga Casuals, Rheem Center.

Young GOP Will Hear Kirkwood

Joseph R. Longacre, program chairman for the Orinda Young Republicans, announces that the group will have the California state controller and declared candidate for United senator, Robert Kirkwood, as guest speaker at a program at Orinda Community Church next Thursday, 8 p.m.

Kirkwood, the first to announce his candidacy when Senator William Knowland made his decision not to run for reelection, will discuss issues of importance concerning both California and the nation.

The Orinda Young Republicans invite all Orindans regardless of party affiliation to the gathering.

Patio Music Shop Offers Harmony at Rheem Center

Rheem Center's Third Anniversary will have some real harmony when Carl Schweldhelm opens his Patio Music Shop today.

At the location of the former Moraga Record Album, Schweldhelm's Patio Music Shop will carry records, sheet music and a wide variety of musical instruments and will offer expert instruction in instrumental music.

A professional musician for the past 27 years, Schweldhelm has five musicians who will start out as instructors at his music school at the Patio Music Shop. He expects to enlarge the teaching staff later.

THE FIVE who will constitute the initial faculty are: Buddy Webber, popular vocalist now with the James Diamond orchestra and formerly with Dick Jurgens and Russ Morgan. The popular piano method is a specialty of Webber's He will teach saxophone, clarinet and piano.

Ray McIntosh, who has been with the Dick Jurgens, Frankie Masters and Bob Strong orchestras, and formerly a brass teacher with the Wurlitzer Music Company in Chicago. He will teach brass instruments.

Lino Acciaioli, well-known local teacher and musician; he will teach violin, saxophone and clarinet.

Evangaline Honnold, Orinda resident, member of the Oakland Quartet for many years. She will teach violin.

Jack King, solo trumpeter with the 49er Band, who will teach trumpet.

CLASSES will be geared for instruction for beginners in band and orchestral playing, strings and brasses, according to Schweldhelm.

On opening day today the Patio Music Shop will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tomorrow the shop will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., which will be the regular hours Mondays thru Saturdays.

Instruction will be for adults as well as children. Classical piano lessons will be added later.

SCHWELDHELM has played the bass violin in recent years; before that he played the sousaphone. He has played with the Tom Coakley and Carl Ravazza bands, has been a member of the San Francisco Light Opera Association orchestra, has performed with the San Francisco Opera Company orchestra and has played in major theater orchestras in San Francisco.

The soundproof studios for music lessons and the many other new features of the Patio Music Shop at Rheem Center have resulted from careful rearrangement of space facilities by Schweldhelm.

13 Year Old Boys Steal Footballs

The theft of two footballs and a needle valve from the Lafayette Elementary School last week resulted in the apprehension of of two 13 year old Lafayette boys.

The youngsters claimed that the footballs were rightfully theirs but later admitted using a passkey to open a storeroom where the balls had been kept.

Larinda Speakers Install Officers

Incoming and outgoing officers of the Larinda Toastmasters were honored at a dinner dance, October 4, at the Claremont Hotel. Area governor George Sanko introduced the following new officers for the 1957-58 season:

Forrest Bryant, president; Dick Elliatt, educational vice president; Mel Shine, administrative ivce president; Clarence Crawford, secretary; Tom Finch, treasurer; and Jack Dapper, sergeant at arms.

Wives were invited to participate in a series of one minute table topic speeches, conducted by Topics Master Lowell Dygert. Ed Ricksheim was awarded the topics cup for his description of a husband giving his wife golf lessons.

After a short talk by outgoing president Gordon Forrest, Bill Thaler handled the presentation of gifts to the retiring officers.

Soroptimists Attend District Confab

Officers and delegates of Soroptimist International of Lafayette-Orinda attended a three-day district conference at Hoberg's, Lake County.

Those attending as delegates were Mrs. Leah Belle Blodgett, president; Mrs. Larry Blakesley, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Lorentzen, director; Mrs. Jay Bedsworth, delegate, and Mrs. Graylis Vossler, delegate.

Mrs. Ola Waldie, Mrs. Dorothy Foster and Miss Jane Patorio will also attend.

Theme of the district's fall meeting was "Service." Progress reports and final plans for this Biennium were pdesented by regional officers and chairmen.

Soroptimsits honored "Venture" club members at Sunday's breakfast. "Venture" members are young business women between the ages of 18 and 35. "Venture" clubs are sponsored by Soroptimist International.

Locals Get Service Pins

A total of 20 service pin awards were presented last month to East Bay Municipal Utility District employees by EBMUD General Manager John W. McFarland.

Ten-year pin awards were presented to Director William D. McNevin, 1236 Upper Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, and Owen F. Eide, 491 Moraga Highway, orinda.

Moraga Fire Dept. Displays Truck Progress

Forty years of progress in firefighting equipment was demonstrated last weekend by the Moraga Fire Department.

According to Chief Al Baitx, two fire trucks were paraded through the Lincoln Estates, Ranchitos, Inland Valley and Rheem Valley areas and downtown Moraga. The trucks are a 1917 Seagrave pumper, with a 350-gallons-a-minute capacity, and a modern Class A International 1000-gallon pumper, radio-equipped.

The 1917 pumper is not a part of the regular equipment of the department, Baitx explained, but has been on exhibit during Fire Prevention Week, at the Rheem Valley station on Rheem Boulevard, the main station of the department.

Regular firemen and Moraga-Canyon volunteers were in the parade with the two trucks, Baitx said.

Acalanes Valley Notes

By MARGE FROCK, CL 4-3347

CAMPING OUT

Vacation time ends with Fred and Bonnie Kinkner and their children, Tommy, Linda and Andy, spending a week camping out along the Redwood Highway. They stopped over at Van Dam on Highway 1, also at Prairie Creek and at Castle Crags.

A morning coffee was given for Rosaleen Coughlin by Barbara Craig and Marge Frock. Although she has been with us since June it was the first time many had met her.

It was also the first time many have met another new neighbor, Vivian Sturgeon, who recently moved to the new house on Acalanes Road.

Those who came to say hello were Norice Pace, Nancy Quinzell, Betty Lewis, Lois Cunningham, Rose Hawkins, Ann Chilcote, Garnet Grieves, Mrs. Paul Gordon, Helen White, Ruth Cumming, Beeb Marsh and Beulah Bishop.

INJURES KNEE

Erna Link had a bad fall three weeks ago, injuring her knee.

Her mother, Mrs. Castlemen, tells us it is improving and hopes Erna will be up and about in a few days.

Dorthea and George Cummings and their boys, Kirk and Allen, came up from their new home in Whittier for a weekend visit. While they were here they stayed with Dorthea's mother, Mrs. Hook, in Oakland.

LUNCHEON

While George attended a meeting Dorthea visited the Valley at a luncheon given for her by Ann Chilcote.

Those who attended to hear all about Dorthea's new activities and new house were Ortell Roddick, Rose Hawkins, Betty Lewis, Barbara Craig and Marge Frock.

It was wonderful to see her again and we'll be looking forward to another visit around Christmas time.

Bye for now, more news next week.

Driver Classes Again Offered At Acalanes

A course in how to drive an automobile intelligently and safely is being offered again this year to students at Acalanes High School.

Driver training classes, in which students will receive a minimum of six hours of actual behind-the-wheel driving instruction, are made possible by the loan to the school of a new Chevrolet by the Parker-Robb Chevrolet Company of Walnut Creek.

The car has been equipped with AAA dual controls supplied at cost by the California State Automobile Association.

This on-the-road training serves as a supplement to the classroom instruction in driver education.

John McLean is the instructor for the class.

Obey traffic boys on duty at school crossings. They protect our children.

Estate Valued At $248,722

The estate of Jesse Lydell Peck, 57, of 3975 South Peardale Drive, has been appraised at $248,722. He died January 24.

The amount of the estate was revealed when Superior Court Judge Hugh H. Donovan granted $500 monthly allowances to the daughter of the former state fire marshal.

The two girls, Susan Gay Peck, 14, and Bonnie Lydell Peck, 7, live with their mother, Mrs. Ruthmarie Peck Ponting.

Peck was the divorced husband of actress Janet Gaynor.

Betty Clark is Alpha Chi Pledge

Betty Clark, June graduate of Acalanes High School, has pledged Alpha Chi Omega Sorority at the University of California.

Miss Clark was senior class secretary at Alcalanes and received the Business and Professional club award at the time of graduation. She is a member of the California Scholarship Federation.

Miss Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood L. Clark of Laurel Drive, Lafayette.

REHEARSAL S

Members of the Acalanes senior play cast have started spending their after-school hours in rehears for their production of the Broadway hit, "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Those chosen for roles in the play are Donna Stegman, Judy Henderson, Bill Shurtleff, Joey Tuttle, Tom Palsak, Anne Coakley, Penny Tharsing, Ann Munroe, Alan Hewitt, Judy Ackerman, Lou Smith, Steve Pickering, Sue Reinhart, Peter Morrisey, Dave Bojarsky, Mike McCardle, Mac Waddell, Lauri Steinke, Kirk Barnette, Chris Romine, Doug Parker, Jim Hill, Tom Phair, Arne Groennings, Ernie Fox and John Boyd.

CSF HAS MEETING

The first meeting of the California Scholarship Federation was a busy one, as the members had to elect officers and plan both a field trip and a cake sale for the near future.

Officers for this year are Dan Funk, president; Mike McDonald, vice-president; Kelo Ann Thrailkill, secretary; Dodie Reilly, treasurer, and Lou Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

The club decided to visit Stanford University for the yearly trip to a college in the area. The COP campus also came up for consideration, but the majority of the seniors were determined to make Stanford their goal.

Cakes baked by the CSFers will be a brunchtime feature next week. This is a fund-raising activity to provide part of the scholarship which the club gives to an outstanding senior each year.

JUNIOR STATESMEN

Tomorrow will find several Don Junior Statesmen attending a regional convention at Las Lomas. Bills concerning labor and segregation are slated for discussion during the day.

In charge of Junior Statesmen activities at Acalanes are Mike Halloran, Mike McDonald, Sue Ellen Markey, Rick Dietz, Fred Morris, Marcia Bates and Sue Schneider.

The 1958 "Aklan" yearbook ends its second week of sales today. The staff hopes to sell 1000 books by the end of next week, because "the more that are sold the better the book can be," according to Fred Sonntagg, editor.

Christmas Bureau Now Accepting Yule Toys

The Christmas Bureau of Mt. Diablo Valley is seeking the early cooperation of all civic, church, school and fraternal organizations to help plan a happier Christmas for the needy families of the community, according to Mrs. Robert Weeks of Lafayette, acting chairman.

She said, "The purpose of the Christmas Bureau, which works closely with the County Welfare Department and the American Red Cross, is to discover the needs, certify the worthiness of recipients and act as a clearing house to avoid duplication in giving."

In the past, many individuals, churches, schools and other organizations were duplicating help to needy families at Christmas.

EIGHT YEARS ago the Christmas Bureau was set up under the sponsorship of the Junior League and the American Red Cross to compile the names of those in need and to provide each group who wished to help an opportunity of doing so.

This year the Bureau has asked organization with regular annual programs of giving to register immedately.

It will assist any person or group who wishes to plan a Christmas project involving gifts or food.

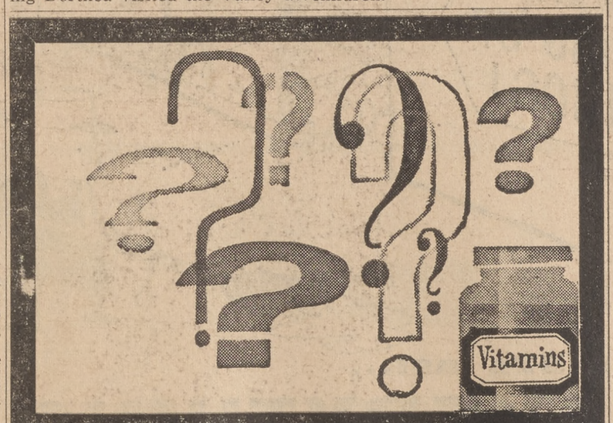
Those seeking information may eal the Volunteer Bureau, Mrs. William Beckett Jr.; Mrs. Lawrence Hudson, or Mrs. H. D. Welch.

THE BUREAU will accept cash contributions to be used for food baskets, clothes and gifts. From Tuesday to December 1, fire departments in Moraga and Lafayette and the American Red Cross in Walnut Creek will accept wheel toys, dolls, other toys and books, new or in excellent condition.

Due to the limitation of facilities and manpower, the firemen are unable to make extensive repairs. Those seeking pickup service may call Mrs. Robert Angell, Jr.

The Executive Committee of the Christmas Bureau includes Mrs. Harmon Howard of Walnut Creek, honorary Chairman; Mrs. Robert Weeks of Lafayette, acting chairman; Mrs. John V. Hook of Pleasant Hill, secretary; Mrs. Arch M. Favors of Lafayette, publicity chairman.

Mrs. H. D. Welch of Danville, Danville representative; Mrs. Nancie B. Keane of Walnut Creek, buying and packing; Mrs. William Beckett, Jr. of Orinda and Mrs. Lawrence Hudson of Danville, needs and resources.



How many "vitamin pills" per bottle?

Some vitamin preparations seem like bargains. Lots of capsules per dollar. But that's not the way medications should be measured. The true measure is potency—how much active, beneficial ingredient per dollar. When you measure this way, you will find that the real "bargains" are in your registered pharmacy. Before you buy vitamin preparations from a nonprofessional source, check with your physician. It pays.

Go to Church Sunday

Congregational

"Forward" will be the Rev. Chauncey Blossom's sermon topic Sunday morning at the Orinda Community Church (Congregational) at 9:30 and 11 o'clock. The Chaneel Choir will sing "Hear My Prayer" by Kopylof.

Church school for 3-year-olds through eighth grade will be held at 9:30 and 11 o'clock; nursery care at 11. A youth forum for high school grades, under the leadership of Rudy Monosmith and Jack Biersdorf, will meet in Fellowship Hall at 11.

The music committee will meet in the Livingstone Room Monday, 8 p.m.

A creative activities workshop on simulating stained glass windows in the church school will be held Tuesday morning, 9-12, in Fellowship Hall, led by Muriel James.

Bible study class will be at 10 a.m. in the chapel on Wednesday.

Parent registration - orientation for children in the church school will be Wednesday, 8-8:45 p.m., in the chapel.

The Church Council meets Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Livingstone Room.

Pilgrim Fellowship Work Day for Christ will be on Saturday, October 26. PFers will do odd jobs for those who want work done. Proceeds will go to Church World Missions.

Christian Life Series, four Monday evenings in November, 8-10, will be in the Orinda Community Church. Each evening there will be two class periods, with three classes taught each period. You may take the classes of your choice.

From 8-9 the classes will be "Prayer — its uses and problems; "Psychological and Religious Development of Children" and "What The Church Believes." From 9-10 — "Christianity in the Business World" (for men only), "The Ministry of Jesus With Individuals" and "What The Church Believes." Leading these classes will be the Rev. Robert Rodenmeyer, Rev. Robert Leslie, Rev. Chauncey Blossom, Rev. Muriel James and Mr. Jack Biersdorf.

Registration may be made at the church in advance for this series or on the night of the first evening the classes meet. These classes are open to all interested people.

Lutheran

"Slaves of Christ" will be the sermon theme of the Rev. Merle O. Tollefson at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, 1035 Carol Lane, Lafayette, Sunday. Services are held at 8:15 and 11 a.m., and a nursery is provided during the 11 a.m. service.

Sunday school classes meet at 9:30 a.m. for pre-school through adult Bible class, and at 11 a.m. for pre-school through grade 3.

Sunday evening at 6:30 the Youth Discussion Group, which includes young people of high school and college age, will meet at the church for a supper meeting.

Tuesday evening at 8 the Sunday school teachers will meet at the church.

Wednesday evening at 8 the Midweek Bible Study will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Behr, 378 Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill.

Thursday at 10 a.m. the Women's Study Group will meet at the church. The Junior Choir will meet at 7 p.m., and the Senior Choir and the adult inquiry class will meet at 8 p.m.

The junior and senior confirmation classes will meet Saturday at 10 a.m.

Baptist

First Baptist Church of Lafayette, 3653 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette:

Sunday school will start at 10 a.m. Sunday. The morning worship hour on Sunday will begin at 11 o'clock. The message will be titled "Looking for the Upper Taker."

Evening fellowship hour is scheduled for 7 p.m. Sunday.

A prayer service will be held at 7:30 Wednesday night.

Episcopal

The services at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek, for the 18th Sunday after Trinity will commence with Holy Communion at 8 a.m., followed by Holy Communion at 9 a.m. and morning prayer at 11 a.m. The Rev. Robert S. Morse, chaplain to Espicopal students at the University of California, will preach at both the 9 and 11 o'clock services.

A service of evening prayer for the deaf will be held in the chapel at 3 p.m. and every third Sunday of the month. The Rev. Robert Tsu, curate at St. Paul's will lead the service. This is the first time that services in sign language have been held in Northern California.

The service of evening prayer will also be held at 5 p.m., conducted by Garret Conklin, Seminarian.

Midweek services of Holy Communion will be celebrated Tuesday at 6:30 a.m., Wednesday at 6 a.m. and Thursday at 11:30 a.m.

Methodist

Lafayette Community Methodist Church, 955 Moraga Road, Lafayette:

Church school will start at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

Worship services will be at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday, with the Rev. Henry Page White's sermon theme at both services being "Let's Give God a Hearing."

Wednesday at 10 a.m. the study class on Japan will meet at the church with Mrs. Jack Inman-Kane.

On Thursday the Woman's Society of Christian Service will sponsor a quiet day program, open to friends and members, from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Lunch will then be served and Circles 1, 2 and 3 will hold their meetings in the church rooms.

World-wide Week of Prayer will begin next Friday.

The Couplers Club will have its regular meeting on Friday, instead of Wednesday. It plans a mystery evening. Meet at the church at 7:30 p.m. Members and friends are urged to bring warm clothing and walkin gshoes.

The Second-Milers will be entertained at a costume party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Duncan, 772 Solana Drive, Saturday evening.

Baptist

Sunday morning the First Baptist Church of Orinda will begin with Sunday school at 9:30, followed by the morning worship service at 11 in the Willows banquet room.

There will be a special magic trick for the young people coming to Sunday school.

Pastor Bruce H. Parker will bring a special message at the worship service, "Three Classes at the Cross."

Youth Director Roger Moore will lead in the 6:30 activities for the evening young people's meeting. All teenagers are invited to 2 Crest View Drive, Orinda, for this meeting.

The informal evening service will highlight a special musical group called the Jubilairs, singing spirituals, gospel songs and hymns. The pastor will bring a devotional message on "God's Epitaphs."

Episcopal

Returning from two weeks' attendance at the Group Life Laboratory at Asilomar, the Rev. Albert Lucas will conduct Sunday Services at 8, 9:15 and 11 a.m. at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on Via Las Cruces in Orinda.

Members of the Junior Choir will not sing at the 9:15 family service, as is customary, but at 11 o'clock the St. Stephen's Senior Choir will sing as offeratory anthem, "Thou Visitest the Earth," by Greene, as well as assisting with the congregational music.

In an effort to become completely self-supporting, the Young People's Fellowship will wash cars on Sunday, from 1 until 5 p.m., in the parking lot at the church, the cost being $1 per car.

Joint chairmen of the car wash activity will be Jim Carlisle and John Shaw, who have divided the YPF membership into rotating teams which will be on duty the full four hours.

Funds not needed for immediate projects will be sent to the St. Michael's home for homeless boys in Puerto Rico, an institution maintained by Episcopal nuns.

Lutheran

The Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church will hold regular services at 8 and 11 a.m. Sunday. "What Can Christ Do?" will be the sermon theme of Pastor Albert S. Hidy Jr.

Sunday school meets at 9:30 a.m., Luther League at 7 p.m.

The confirmation classes meet on Saturday at 9 and 10 a.m.

The Luther League is planning a weekend of fun at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snyder in Lake County. Included in the fun will be a dance, a venison steak dinner prepared by Mr. Snyder, and just relaxing in the sun.

The Women's Guild of the church is working on plans for a luncheon on October 29 at noon at the Willows restaurant in Orinda.

Guest speaker will be John Wheaton of Jackson's store, who will give an illustrated talk on "Decorating on a Budget." Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Esther Shepard.

The proceeds from the free will donations will go for the Sunday School rooms through the building fund.

Covenant

Male Speech-Aspirants: Toastmasters Invite You

In April of 1956 the Larinda Toastmasters received their charter to show that they had become part of Toastmasters International, Inc. The local unit was designated as Chapter 2079 of this worldwide organization dedicated to self-help of men in the art of public speaking.

The Larinda group (the name means Lafayette and Orinda) was started by two energetic young men who had some toastmastering—George Sanko and Bill Thaler.

Based on their own improvement in speaking they felt that others in the area should be accorded the same opportunity.

SIMPLY PUT, Toastmasters are mature men who feel that their ability to speak before people has room for improvement.

A typical member would be a salesman who finds he is nervous in discussing his company's product before small groups. Or he may look ahead to the time when his employers ask him to give a short talk at a sales rally.

Or he may be a local merchant who feels that he could "warm up" to his customers better if his conversation flowed more easily.

TOASTERMASTERS are scheduled through 12 different types of talks over a period of time.

One speech stresses speech organization. Another emphasizes gestures, and still another, word improvement.

In addition to all this, everyone gets the opportunity at each meeting of giving a one-minute table topics or impromptu speech.

Speakers are evaluated by their fellow Toastmasters, whose purpose is to guide speakers on the road to steady improvement.

FORREST BRYANT, newly elected president of the group, emphasized that everyone in the area should know that the Larinda group is actively seeking new members. The membership limit has just been raised from 30 to 40.

Bryant said:

"Be our guest at the next meeting or the one after that. See for yourself how Toastmastering works. We meet every other Monday at 6:30 p.m. at Casa Orinda. Phone me or Mel Shine.

"We'll see that you feel welcome, and will let you decide if you'd like to attend another meeting and eventually become a member of our active group."

Don Students Gather Facts On Scholarships

Aided by the Acalanes Counseling Department, Acalanes High School students who are members of the Don chapter of the California Scholastic Federation for honor students are compiling information on college scholarships and admission deadlines.

The survey is intended to help students of potential scholarship ability learn which scholarships are offered by what universities and what the specific qualifications for each scholarship are.

Information gleaned in the study will be published by the Don CSF in the form of a handbook. Last year, 23 Acalanes seniors received scholarships.

Students working on the project include Cecile Casewell, Gail Fries, Avery Larson, Judy Myers, Judy Hunt, Joan Hammarberg, Sue Flint, Kelo Ann Thrailkill, Gayle Chamberlain, Jo Ann Musante, Diane Olberg and Barbara Branstead. Mrs. Heloise Corr, Acalanes counselor, is advisor for the group.

Vallecito PTA To See Capsule 'My Fair Lady'

A dramatization of "My Fair Lady" — a capsule version of the hit musical — will be presented at 2:30 p.m. next Thursday at the Orinda Theater by Margaret Woodall, assisted by her actor-director father, William Woodall, under the sponsorship of the Vallecito PTA.

Mrs. Robert Cornforth is chairman of the benefit event. Mrs. Welton C. Smith is ticket chairman. Unit president is Mrs. Doble Doyle.

Margaret Woodall is well known throughout the West Coast for her "one-woman theater productions" of hit plays. This time, however, she is having a more elaborate production than usual; the libretto is augmented by music and costumes and by the aid of her father.

Canyon Club Starts New Busy Year

A busy year is under way for the Canyon Community Club. School Work Day, a Canyon residence map, a Halloween party and a bake sale are scheduled.

On Sunday Canyon men, women and children will come out for the traditional School Work Day.

At the little two-room school under the redwoods they will paint, wash walls and windows, repair and replace equipment and clean up the grounds. They will look forward to a hearty potluck dinner as a reward for their work.

In charge of arrangements for this school-community project are Mrs. Betty Adams, club president; Mrs. Philomena Drake, clerk of the school board, and Mrs. Virginia Menge, who will see that there is plenty of food.

NOT WAITING for the work day were five volunteers who put a new roof over the school kitchen before the rains came. Working with John Shally and Dick Day last weekend were Allen Crawford, George Menge, Ray Black and "Doc" Adams.

Following a talk on "Problems of Police Protection for Canyon," by Inspector Norman Wilson of the Sheriff's office to the Canyon Community Club, a map locating and identifying all the homes on Canyon's roads and trails is being prepared. Copies will be furnished the sheriff's office and the fire department to aid them in finding their way in the future.

All Canyon residents will receive a phone directory and map, which is being prepared by Larry Williams, with the assistance of Mrs. Louise Martinez.

OTHER COMING activities of the Community Club are a Halloween Party for the school children and a bake sale for the benefit of the Canyon School Christmas Party.

Officers of the Community Club for this year are Mrs. Betty Adams, president; Mrs. Virginia Menge, vice-president; Mrs. Louise Martinez, secretary, and Mrs. Louise Gadsden, treasurer.

McLeod Family Back From Tour

The Angus McLeod family is at home again at 10 Greenwood Court, Orinda, after a six week tour of the country.

They covered 14,000 miles and 32 states making the trip to Portland, Maine, by way of Key West, Florida. While in Maine they visited relatives at Sabego Lake on Sturdevant Island in Casco Bay.

Lafayette, Orinda AFS: 'Change for Exchange!'

Imagine taking some of the small change out of your pocket to lay the groundwork for world peace! This may sound oversimplified, but it's a good definition of American Field Service students' Halloween drive.

Halloween night, in the midst of all the "Trick or treats" of hobgoblins and spooks, you are apt to find a high school student saying "Change for exchange!"

Last year the student club at Acalanes held its first Halloween drive, and both Orinda and Lafayette gave the students enthusiastic support, making the drive an outstanding success.

THIS YEAR AFS is hoping for the same community support, as both Acalanes and Miramonte club treasuries stand at $.00. All the money, including membership dues, made by AFS throughout the school year is used as scholarships for exchange students at our high schools.

Searching for a way to improve international understanding and peace, the American Field Service has worked on the idea that today's young people are an important key to this goal. A worldwide exchange student program for high school students has been established, and every year it increases in scope and importance.

Students who receive the honor of exchanging countries with other students for a year agree with AFS workers that this unique program is very effective in creating friendship and breaking prejudice into better understanding on both sides.

THE LOCAL STUDENT bodies themselves are so enthusiastic they have formed students' clubs, in order to let the whole school take part in AFS programs.

This is the third year for the Acalanes club, although it has been receiving and sending exchange students since 1954.

Miramonte has its first two exchange students enrolled this year, and established its school AFS Club this fall.

MEMBERS of both clubs will be out trick-or-treating in their communities on Hallowen night.

When they ask for "Change for exchange," don't be alarmed — they aren't a new type of spook.

They're students who want world peace and who want your help in getting it.

Eggertsen New Moraga Meadows Club President

The Moraga Meadows Association held its general election meeting October 3, at which the following officers were elected for 1957-58:

President, Frank Eggertsen; vice-president, Warren Herlihy; treasurer, Ken Brown; secretary, Jane Eaton; directors, Earl Vicars, Andy O'Brien and Tony Yriberri.

Holdover directors from last year are G. S. Trumbly and E. Pierre.

Ferns Offer Rich Decor

Ferns are among the most adaptable garden plants if their simple needs are met, and they are highly decorative plants, ranging in size from dwarfs to trees.

Ferns are flowerless plants thought to be descendants of some of the oldest types of plant life on this earth. They belong in several plant families.

A deep, well aerated soil rich in humus, shade and ample moisture are the basic requirements of most ferns.

THERE ARE SOME species, however, that are exceptions to these requirements and will tolerate some sun, wind and dryness.

Some of the tree ferns make fine tub subjects.

This is true of the Australian and Tasmanian tree ferns.

The Asutralian (Alsophila australis) grows to 18 feet, needs half shade and wind protection; the Tasmanian (Dicksonia antaractica) is the hardiest of tree ferns and grows to 10 feet.

THE SOFT, feathery foliage usually associated with ferns is a characteristic of the American Maidenhair (Adian tum pedatum).

The Staghorn fern, (Platycerium bifurcatum), however, does not look like a fern; its fronds are either wavy-margined or forked like antlers and it needs vertical support to grow well.

House ferns are available, too, for the gardener who likes to do much of his gardening indoors.

Get Garden Ready For Winter Season

Get your rhododendrons and azaleas ready for winter by mulching with oak leaf mold over the rooting area.

Also, if you haven't already, prune berry vines back, clean under fruit trees, pick off dead flower heads and generally clean up your garden before the rains begin.

Berry-Bearers Add Attractive Colors

Berry-bearing trees and shrubs will add winter color to your garden and yard.

Pyracanthas are noted for bright berries, as are the Barberries, and the Cotoneaster has several varieties that bear winter berries.

The fruit of Cherry of the Rio Grande (Eugenia edulis) changes from red to purple, and the leaves of the Washington Hawthorn (Crataegus phaenopyrum) turn red and orange in the fall when the bright red berries appear.

BUFFALO HUNTING

The Indians of eastern New Mexico developed an efficient but dangerous method of buffalo hunting before the introduction of the rifle. Dressed in wolf skins, a hunter would creep into the center of a herd and kill two or three buffalo with a lance before the rest stampeded.

Lantana Among Most Highly Popular Shrubs

Graceful lantana is among California's most popular free-blooming shrubs.

Because of its vine-like habit, lantana has been equally successful as a ground cover, tied up as a vine or grown naturally as a low shrub.

This versatility and its beautiful flowers help account for its popularity.

LANTANA IS EASY to care for. After being planted in full sun, the lantana needs little watering and no fertilization.

The blooms each year will be more plentiful if the shrub is cut back in spring.

THE RATHER DWARF and compact Lantana Camera may become either a 6-foot shrub or a vine as tall as 20 feet, depending upon the pruning it receives.

There are named varieties in many colors: cerise-pink, white, yellow and orange-red.

These flowers grow in dense, flat heads. The leaves are dark green.

TRAILING LANTANA (lantana sellowiana), a low-spreading plant with fragrant lavender-pink flowers in dense heads, is often used as ground cover in sunny locations. This rapid grower is probably the hardiest of the lantanas.

Goldrush Lantana (1. callowiana Goldrush) is a recent introduction with clusters of bright yellow flowers throughout the year. This can also be grown in prostrate shrub form as a ground cover or in planters.

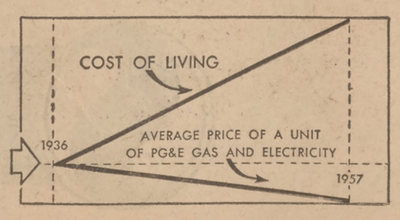
"7 minutes on the job... saves my wife hours of drudgery"

California Fish and Game biologist, Elden Vestal, figures it takes him just 7 minutes' work to provide his home with 24 hours of gas and electricity.

"I wish everything was that reasonable. When you think of all the work gas and electricity do in our house, 7 minutes of my time seems little enough to pay for such a necessity." (The Vestals' Fresno home is equipped with 41 appliances.) Mr. Vestal makes a good point: with gas and electricity so cheap in California, you can afford to use more of it. Most people do . . . that's why your P. G. and E. bill may be higher than in years past. Yet the price of a unit of P. G. and E. gas and electricity is actually ⅓ lower today than in 1936. Can you think of anything else that costs less than it did 21 years ago?



Live better—gas and electricity are cheap in California

Two-County Rapid Transit? Here Is The Low-Down

Just what is the problem regarding the two-county rapid transit district?

There has been much talk about this body, which was formed by election last November, and there has been much confusion. Yet the district is so important to us that there should be few misunderstandings.

FRANKLY, WE ARE surprised that so many people in Central Contra Costa voted for the formation of the two-county rapid transit district last November. We are convinced that there was a great deal of misunderstanding.

Some may have thought they were voting for the nine-county district, others that they were just voting for rapid transit per se.

The district was formed in spite of the fact that the following agencies had passed resolutions requesting a "no" vote: The Walnut Creek City Council, Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, Contra Costa County Commuters Association and other improvement groups and city councils.

The measure was included on the ballot by virtue of a "yes" vote by eight cities in the two counties—Alameda and Contra Costa—even though Concord, El Cerrito and Pinole voted to put the measure on a local ballot to see how their residents felt about the measure.

AFTER THE ELECTION was held, it was revealed that there had been a mix-up in counting absentee ballots at the County Clerk's office, in which the ballot counters failed to separate the absentee ballots according to cities. This resulted in a suit filed by the Contra Costa Transit Council, an organization formed to oppose the formation of the two-county transit district. The suit is still pending.

Many thought the district was formed primarily as a means of subsidizing Key System so that East Bay cities would not be left without trans-Bay transportation in case of strikes.

KEY SYSTEM WANTS to get out. There have been no bones made about that. They are not making money. Key System is faced with rehabilitating its trackage, which is estimated to cost $4,500,000, or remove the tracks and repair the Oakland streets, which is expected to cost $700,000.

If the two-county transit district were to tackle either of these problems, we in Central Contra Costa County would find ourselves paying a share of the cost and reaping no benefits.

This is basically an Oakland problem, and frankly, we're not interested. We do not want to be faced with even a part of the bill, even indirectly, through the two-county transit district.

WE KNOW THAT the board of directors, on which we have only nebulous representation, is concerned with the problem, but that doesn't help us, and we're a big part of the district.

So what is the board of the two-county system going to do? We suggest this:

Why don't you take a good look at Contra Costa County. What plans do you have for us?

The transit council out here is not to be ignored. It represents the feelings of numerous residents, and most of them are voters.

Remember, before you can do much, you are going to have to pass a bond issue with a two-thirds majority vote, and we could be awfully influential in such a vote.

Unless you come up with satisfactory plans and a program showing what you can do for our area—and our tax dollars—it is going to be a rough bond issue to pass.

TO PUT IT BLUNTLY, unless we can see what we are getting for our tax or bond dollar, we're going to be against it!

You might make friends by handling the Key System problem properly—that is fairly as far as your whole district is concerned. If this happens, then maybe you can convince our area that you are working for us too.

THE LIFE of any one or all of these children may depend on this traffic boy. Whether this traffic boy can do his job of protection life properly depends on you, as a motorist. Obey the signals of traffic boys at school crossings!!

Church Workshop Second Session Is Monday Night

Rev. G. A. Cassaday, D.D. of Palo Atlo will address the second in-service education workshop of the Central Contra Costa Council of Churches on Monday night in the Walnut Creek Methodist Church, 1543 Sunnyvale Avenue.

In the keynote talk, Rev. Casaday will describe how children worship. The two-hour session will be opened at 7:45 p.m. by Rev. Roland E. Smith of Walnut Creek.

Six workshops on teaching techniques for various age levels will convene at 8:30 p.m.

LEADERS AND co-leaders will be experienced Sunday School teachers and superintendents.

Among them is Mrs. M. J. Votruba of Oakland, former instructor in the University of Chicago Nursery School and of the Practicum at Northwest Christian College. She will lead the pre-school group in discussions of the value of free play, stories, music and games for the very young Sunday School pupil.

Miss Margaret Porter of Walnut Creek, who is working toward the degree of Bachelor of Divinity at Pacific School of Religion, will lead the kindergarten group in a study of child environment and opportunity for Christian growth.

Miss Maude M. Weber of Alamo, an Oak Park School teacher and former religious education director, will lead primary group discussions on teaching methods best adapted to the primary child.

REV. CASADY HAS been minister of the First Congregational Church at Palo Alto for the last 10 years. Earlier this year, the Pacific School of Religion from which he earned the M.A. and B.A. degrees in the 1930's, conferred the honorary D.D. degree upon him. He was a part-time instructor at the school for four years.

The in-service program, consisting of there successive Monday night sessions, is part of an extensive leadership training plan evolved by the Church Council's Board of Christian Education to meet problems brought about by the unprecedented growth of Sunday Schools.

The council has 24 member churches. Noble F. Justice is president and Rev. Irvin Askin executive secretary.

'Back to School' Is Monday Night At Acalanes High

The footsteps resounding through the halls of Acalanes Monday evening will probably sound heavier than usual but just as enthusistic.

It will be "Back to School Night" for parents. Armed with their children's daily programs, they will attempt to follow the daily routine at the high school.

Some regular students will be posted at strategic points to prevent tardiness and unexcused absences. This wonderful opportunity to promote broader understandings of their children's activities is arranged by the Acalanes Parents Club with the cooperation of the faculty, headed by Principal Stanley Walgren.

After their unusual exertion, the parents will be invited to partake of refreshments provided by Mrs. David J. Lercari and the Acalanes mothers who live on Springhill Road. Mrs. Hardin Jones, Mrs. George McAuliffe, Mrs. Clarence Busby and Mrs. J. L. Hicks will pour tea and coffee.

Robert Miller, membership chairman, and his committee will welcome new members of the Parents Club at any time during the evening.

Oil Progress Week Observed

Don Smith, local chairman of the East Contra Costa Oil Information Committee, announces that this week — October 13 through 19 — is Oil Progress Week for Central Contra Costa County and also throughout the nation.

He points out that all oil men and women throughout the United States participate in oil activities this week. There are window displays, and information is supplied to the schools describing geological explorations for new oil fields. Motion pictures of oil activities are supplied to organizations. Local members of the East Contra Costa Oil Information Committee participating in the Oil Progress Week activity are Don Smith, chairman, Al Cary, Charley Olson, Bill Williams, Vern Axelson and Jack King.

Sterling Will Offer $1000 to Young Essayist

A $1000 scholarship contest for young people under 19 years of age was announced today by the Sterling Furniture Company. The contest is sponsored by Sterling and Westinghouse Electric Corporation. It is based on a 50 to 100-word essay written on the subject "Why I have faith in the shape of the world of tomorrow."

The writer of the essay judged best by the board of judges, composed of well-known Californians, will be awarded the $1000 scholarship to any accredited school, college or university of his choice. The contest will close November 16, and the winner will be notified.

Eligible entrants may obtain a scholarship contest application blank when accompanied by an adult, or an adult may obtain the blank at Sterling Furniture Company at 1272 Broadway, Walnut Creek.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

We would like to add our protest against the new school bus rulings for the Walnut Creek Area.

Perhaps drastic economy measures are needed, but there must be some other way to save money than forcing first to fourth graders to risk their lives walking on unsafe roads.

The distance to be walked is not important, but the road hazards are.

Small children can not be relied upon to watch for the trucks backing up from the Newell-Tice Valley intersection . . . or beware of drivers pulling around these trucks, blind to oncoming traffic and walking children.

There are few days when there is not a bent fender at that intersection. It could just as easily be a crushed child! We do not intend that it be our six year old daughter.

Our tax dollar is worth the same amount as the dollar paid by parents outside the new bus limits, and yet for our peace of mind, we must spend additional money to drive our child to school.

This does not solve anything, since instead of being safely aboard a school bus, she is adding one more car to the traffic.

The board members should reconsider their ruling, and take into advisement the varying road conditions in this area, with more awareness of the age of the children they are expecting to walk along these roads.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Martinez

DEAR EDITOR:

As the City-County-State Thoroughfare survey is reaching its climax of appeal for public response to 160,000 postcards sent to motor vehicle owners, I want to personally express to The Sun Papers my sincere appreciation of the papers' assistance in carrying to the public a very vital message on highway planning.

The assistance of The Sun Papers, the donating of generous space to a coordinated highways study program that has highway users themselves as participants, will figure very prominently in any success we achieve.

I know that I can also convey to you the appreciation of Supervisors Ray S. Taylor and M. F. Nielsen.

Again, my wholehearted appreciation of your important contribution in an important public survey.

VICTOR W. SAUER,
Public Works Director.

THANKS

Dear Editor: October marks the first anniversary of the founding of the Lafayette Senior Recreation Center. The fact that we now have 78 members and growing steadily, speaks for the need of a club of this kind in our community.

The sponsors and members wish to express their appreciation for the help and support that you have given us through your paper. We would be honored to have a member of your staff visit us at any time.

We meet the first and third Thursdays of each month at the Legion Hall from 1 to 3:30 p.m. On November 21 there will not be a meeting for a bus trip is scheduled for that day.

Tunnel of Love On Sundays, Too

A special Sunday night showing of the comedy hit "The Tunnel of Love," will be held at 7 p.m. each Sunday beginning this Sunday at the Alcazar Theater, San Francisco.

This is in addition to the regular evening shows Monday through Saturday, which start at 8:30.

The only matinee will be held on Saturday each week.

This special showing on Sunday is in response to many requests from cities outside of San Francisco from persons who are unable to attend any other performance, and it is scheduled at the earlier hour to enable out-of-town patrons to get back to their homes at a reasonable time.

Firepower Demonstration Proves 'Terrifying'

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

It was terrifying. Yes, "terrifying" but "wonderful." These are the words that best describe my reaction to the Aerial Firepower Demonstration that I witnessed at Eglin Air Force Base, Florida, last week.

The demonstration was fascinating. Then, the more I thought of what science is doing for aviation and firepower the more terrified I became. A later reaction was: "Well, it's our air force, thank God, and our country has good protection."

Into the wild blue yonder...

On the invitation of the Air Force, I joined a party of newspapermen, officials and prominent citizens from Washington, Oregon and California. We took off from Hamilton Field, Marin County; stopped at El Paso, and then New Orleans became our headquarters. On the day of the demonstration, we flew across a hunk of Mississippi and Alabama, then over the mighty Pensacola Naval air fields, landing at Eglin Base. This is the Air Proving Ground Command.

There were hundreds of generals, colonels and majors. I did spot a few lieutenants and captains—but very few. There were governors, congressmen, mayors and Defense Department officials, from all over the nation.

The spectators who watched sleek supersonic fighters and ponderous bombers pin-point targets with rockets, bombs, napalm and fast-firing cannon were impressed—to say the least.

Six-second errors—no more

Crammed into the two-hour show were daring demonstrations, including the latest toss bombing, in-flight refueling and rocket firing techniques. More than 100 aircraft of all types were paraded before us on a fantastic time schedule that permitted pilots a maximum six seconds' error in flashing by the grandstand.

That's a more demanding time schedule than most combat missions!

Flying at some 1200 feet a second—the length of four football fields, an F-100 aimed for a white chalk line on the ground. The jet started its dive six miles away and 20,000 feet high. So fast was the sweptwing fighter traveling that we didn't hear the boom until it was well past the grandstand.

The jet whipped across the area so low that the chalk bounced into the air.

Setting the pace for the entire program was a remarkable demonstration of precision flying by the Thunderbirds, the Air Force flying team. You may have seen this team in action.

Too realistic for me

To add realism to the bombing and strafing of targets were four obsolescent aircraft and three-dimensional structures representing a command post, gun emplacements, a railroad marshalling yard and factory.

After watching Sabre Jets dump searing napalm bombs on the simulated factory building with the accuracy of a Kentucky sharpshooter, I speculated on the effects of an atomic or hydrogen attack against an industrial center.

Demonstrating the ominous combination of a supersonic fighter and the latest in missiles, a Sabre Jet unleashed two "sidewinders" that guided themselves into parked bombers with tremendous damage.

Everything in the book

To show the versatility of the F-100, three Super Sabers made lightning passes on a simulated enemy command post dumping napalm, rockets, bombs and 20 mm. shells—leaving a smoking ruin.

When the development of nuclear weapons outdated low-level dive bombing, the Air Force met the challenge by producing new delivery techniques. Known as "toss" or "over-the-shoulder bombing," the new technique is designed to provide maximum distance between aircraft and the deadly mushroom blast of the atomic explosion.

Hugging the terrain, an F-101 jet fighter swept silently into view and then zoomed for altitude shooting skyward at hundreds of feet a second. While vertical the pilot released his bomb, which arcs high into the air leaving a path marked by smoke grenades. Long before the bomb hit the gound, the jet was out of sight.

The devastating potency of the Air Force's big bombers was underscored by swept-wing B-47s and the granddaddy of them all, giant ocean-spanning B-52s. To close its firepower demonstration, a huge B-36 released a string of 500 pound bombs which completely blanketed an area more than 8000 feet in length.

In single passes and in squadron flights each target was systematically reduced to flaming rubble to demonstrate the awesome power of an arerial attack.

What Do Teenagers Think?

By DICK OSBORN

Did you know that 90 per cent of the high school students in one of our largest high schools feel that teen-agers and young adults do not take enough initiative in solving the delinquency problems of the people in their own age group?

There were five newspapermen who didn't know this either. But what they found out came as a rather rude awakening last Friday when they were faced by a massed assembly and "put on the spot."

Believe me, many of these youngsters know where they stand, and some of them are just a little bitter toward the treatment they are receiving from adults . . . and their feelings may well be justiifed.

MANY OF THEM think, and think very well. Yet if they consider their problems and environment, and try to come up with answers, they are told . . . "you are not old enough to make decisions. Just behave as the rest behave, do as we tell you, and everything will be alright."

Many of these youngsters have earned the right to think for themselves, and they are going to do it regardless of what adults tell them.

On the other hand, many of the "leather jacket" crew are giving a bad name to the teenage and young adult crowd . . . a reputation which is not at all typical.

Here is the way the students of this high school feel about some of the treatment they are receiving from newspapers, as expressed to representatives of five local newspapers:

EIGHTY-FIVE PER CENT feel that the unfavorable news about young people is overplayed. An overwhelming majority — 98 per cent — think that the unfavorable news printed about young people has helped to create a false impression of the "teenager" in the eyes of the reading public.

They were somewhat more divided on the question of newspapers printing the names of juveniles in connection with delinquency or crime stories, with 70 per cent feeling that names should not be printed, while 30 per cent were in favor.

An interesting statistic revealed that only one per cent thought the majority of news printed about teen-agers was on the favorable side. Seventy-five per cent thought it unfavorable, while the remaining 24 per cent thought it to be in even balance.

BUT THE ROUGH part, at least as far as the newspapermen were concerned, were the honest, direct questions from the youngsters that really put us on the spot.

We admitted that much "sensational" news about teen-agers is overplayed, especially in some metropolitan papers. The first question addressed to the panel was, "You have admitted this, what are you going to do about it as working mewspaper men?"

What are we going to do about it? There is a tradition among newspapers that people want to read "sensational" news, and that papers "sell" because the provide what the people want.

This policy can be followed with moderation, of course, but we who work on newspapers often have to work "blind." We can never be sure that we are providing exactly what readers want, in the way they want it.

THE POLICY of The Sun, for example, is not to banner such juvenile "crime" stories unless they are extremely violent, or obviously worthy of such treatment. We frequently "bury" such news in order to protect innocent youngsters as much as possible.

In addition, we carry much less "negative" news about youngsters than we do "positive" news ,such as Boy Scout, school activity, church youth group and feature stories.

Does this sound a bit desperate, and something like an apology? Well, it is and it isn't. I do not feel the need for apology in the way that The Sun treats youth news, but I do feel the need for apology for perhaps having understimated the feelings and abilities of some of our young people.

They have to earn their place in society, and they must prove that they are not all like the minority that is providing the bad name. But on the other hand, they are, many of them, thinking individuals and must be recognized as such.

PERHAPS WE HAVE treated them too lightly in many of these matters. Perhaps we have not given them the opportunity to act in responsible positions, and have therefore branded them "irrisponsible" when all they needed was a positive chance to prove their worth.

For instance, it has been argued by our school authorities that dances cannot be held after school football games and activities because of the possibility of trouble. Incidentally, I am sure that if such trouble were to occur, it would be because of the irresponsible minority.

How about giving the responsible youngsters a chance to prove that they can handle responsiblity? Very little would be risked by such a program, and a great deal might be gained.

IT WAS CERTAINLY a stimulating experience to meet these youngsters on their own ground. If our panel caused any of them to think about these problems half as much as they caused us to think, it was a tremendously profitable experience.

Oh yes, we newspapermen can sometimes act like our counterparts in the movies, or like the stylized "city editor" type. One young lady came up to me after the assembly and asked, "Why do you hate teenagers so?"

I don't, but how can you answer a question like that?

WELCOME—to the "Cardinals," a brand new unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center. Most of the members are from the Lafayette area. The gals willingly rolled up their sleeves and went right to work—their first project being to staff, along with the Junior Parakeets, the Therapy Center's booth at the Walnut Festival.

Some of those who worked so hard all week-end were Mesdames D. Arena, H. Askam, G. K. Burton, Ray Cassani, Lawrence Din, E. L. Hodges and Herb Phillips.

Jinny (Mrs. Bev) Wilder was the busy one recently—chairmaning the gay Folk Dance Festival at the Recreation Center. If you've never been among the spectators at that yearly event, you've really missed something. The dances are so beautifully executed and the costumes so colorful. Jinny was telling us about the lovely afternoon at Alice (Mrs. Frank) Kashin's home not long ago.

The Towhees entertained there with a luncheon. Centering each bridge table was an attractive cup and saucer which was planted with tiny ivy. These, of course, turned out to be the prizes.

What's this about a riot?

The Kashin gardens were in full bloom—a riot of rich Autumn shades. A thing of beauty herself was hostess, Alice, wearing a most unusually styled frock. It was made of some rich, soft fabric—the hue of soft, cool green. Isabelle (Mrs. Alan Scott) was in charge of arrangements.

The Jack Kennedy home in the Lakewood area was the setting for a busy, busy day. Gathering early in the morning and "sitting it out" until late afternoon were members of the pricing committee for the Christmas Gift Box.

SO HELP ME, the items that were brought by the different units for pricing were just fabulous! Some exquisite, some unusual, some gay, some practical and many humorous.

At any rate, this all-unit project should be one great big success come December. Irvine (Kennedy, that is) as always the gracious hostess, provided a huge tray of the most delicious snacks when noontime rolled around.

The Lombardy Branch certainly should be proud of its highly successful "Under the Big Top" night at the Orinda Country Club. The gardens were aglow with hundreds of lanterns. A huge circus tent provided the background for dining and dancing.

Mingling among the crowd (and I do mean CROWD) were real, live clowns from Ringling Brothers. Big, colorful balloons were floating all around the pool. Some of the guests enjoying the very festive evening were Mr. anad Mrs. Del Courtney (they've joined the Orinda ranks), Mr. and Mrs. J. Tessler, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Sutliff, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brooks (Hester in an American Beauty knit outfit that was a knockout), and Mr. and Mrs. William Lee.

Boy! Just check these fashions!

So many of the gals favored wearing white that night, I noticed. For instance, vivacious Cita (Mrs. Mel) Nielsen wore a crisp white frock with matching toreador type jacket—both trimmed with heavy black braid.

Mildred (Mrs. Bob) Pridemore looked luscious in a voluminous white satin skirt and close fitting black jacket. Ruth (Mrs. Hugh) McIntyre was in a knubby knitted white outfit—the jacket trimmed with mink, as was Ruth (Mrs. Harvey) Dixon—but NOT duplicates! One of the most handsome women there was Bill Scatena's mother, Mrs. Joseph Bray of San Francisco. She protected herself against the slight chill of the evening by wearing the most elegant, scarlet, full length coat. It was completely bordered with sequins and brilliant. SOME protection!

Laurie and Ernie Abbes entertained a few friends before the Lombardy party. They were the David Purrintons, the Donald Priewes, the Bob Rays, the Dick Bliesners and the Bill McGuires.

VIRGINIA (MRS. ED BARNETT) entertained with a luncheon and bridge party at the Pleasanton Hotel recently. Which brings to mind the fun we had on the Pleasanton Hotel Bus last Sunday when we trekked over to the 49er game. Among the group were Pat and Curt Muller (golly!—that Pat is gorgeous!) from Walnut Creek.

Mr. ahad Mrs. Melvin Katzer went to the Oakland airport one Sunday to witness the big Air Show. While there, they joined forces with the Allen Faber family who also were enjoying the show.

The Linnet Juniors report that the party they had for members and their husbands last week was a "heap" of fun. They all gathered around the pool at Mal and Peggy Channing's home in Lafayette. In true old fashioned style—their fare consisted of box lunches. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Bill Denauld (who had to dash off for a wedding in Walnut Grove), Mrs. Don Rigney and Mrs. Allana Griffin.

Babies are in the news again. Mary and John Dorr have welcomed into their happy home, not one but TWO little fellows. The twins were born on September 3rd. Sally and Jack Stellar of Lafayette, already parents of two boys, have added a third to their list.

One of our Occupational Therapists, Betty Caldecott, has just returned from her vacation at Bijou, Lake Tahoe. She had a wonderful time even though disappointed to find too cool for swimming.

Check this Flicker deal!

As usual, the Flicker dinner-dance was rated a HIT! The annual fall affair was held (again this year, as last year's was such a success) at the Marsh Creek Lodge. Music was "rocked out" by the Dee Gill Trio and many enticing prizes were presented. Capable Kay (Mrs. John) Mozzetti was the chairman. Pre-dance parties were given by the Lloyd Smiths of Concord and the Dave Pennas of Walnut Creek. Petty and Brandy Brandenburg were there; Petty wearing the "yummiest" princess style dress of robins egg blue—trimmed with tiny covered buttons which were studded with rhinestones.

Marion Ehlers looked striking dancing with hubby, Kenneth, in a black velvet frock accented with an orchid lei. Connie and Leo Kieny (who had their vacation at Clear Lake cut short by a family flu epidemic recently) were among those present.

Of course, Connie wore a stunning royal blue sheath which was nipped in at the waist by a wide cummerbund, flecked with brilliants.

The Charles Rodiers are planning their annual deer hunting expedition. They will try their luck in areas near Porterville. Helene and Charles have been entertaining the Lawrence Carpenters from Massachustts—Lawrence and Charles were former shipmates.

The Las Lomas Football team is lamenting the loss of one of their star players, Dick Dodge (son of "Gin" and Larry Dodge of Walnut Creek) who broke his leg during the Las Lomas-San Ramon game. We're all hoping that you'll, literally, be on your feet soon, Dick!

How is the health rating in YOUR family Seeing as how it's the thing to do—we're having the Asian Flu—have two down and three to go. See you next week (I hope!)

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE Alumni Association will hold its annual dance next Friday at the Leamington Hotel, Oakland. Active in preparations for the event is a committee of wives of members of the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the association. These wives include, left to right, Mesdames Walter Thomas, Robert Hagler, committee chairman, and Jack Rarig.

Localites Help In Sigma Kappa Fashion Show

Members from Contra Costa Alumnae of Sigma Kappa will assist in planning for the sorority's annual fall fashion show, which will be held next Tuesday afternoon at the University of Californit Chapter house in Berkeley.

Mrs. James V. Baumgartner is fashion show chairman. Mrs. William Greig is luncheon chairman. Mrs. Robert Maynard of Orinda is chairman of Programs.

The party is to benefit the Sheltered Workshop of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center in Walnut Creek. The models will include a group of pledges, active members and alumnae.

Included among the models are Mrs. Robert Costa of Lafayette, Mrs. Carlisle Lane of Orinda and Anne Shafer of Walnut Creek. Robin Cantin will be pianist for the show, and Suzanne Heutius will be commentator.

A group of the fall pledge class will assist with the serving, including Vivian Googins and Judith Monroe of Orinda and Mary Walden of Concord.

Vacationing

Spending a few days at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach, are Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Johnson, Jr.

Mt. Diablo Mills Club Hears Talk

The Mt. Diablo Mills College Club met yesterday evening to hear Dr. George Redley, chaplain and professor of economics and sociology at Mills College discuss his forthcoming biography of Aurelia Henry Reinhardt who was president of Mills for over a quarter of a cenutry.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph E. Macduff Jr. in Lafayette.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Ramsden of Orinda entertained Dr. and Mrs. Hedley at dinner before the meeting.

The next event planned by the club is a Christmas gift preview at the Walnut Creek Elks Club Lodge on November 12.

Mrs. Lackey Is Honored

Mrs. Jack Lackey of Orinda, president of the Children's Theater of the East Bay, was honored at the "Wednesday at the Claremont" luncheon "Foyer Fashions." She attended the weekly affair in the queen's costume from "Sleeping Beauty," first Children's Theater production to begin in East Bay schools November 2.

A previous fashion luncheon held there was attended by the following Mesdames: J. B. Muzzini, Roy Price, Thomas Long and Charles Lurmann of Walnut Creek; Almo Burastero and John Hornung of Orinda; Margaret Jacuzzi and Peter Fosta of Lafayette, and Norman Koch of Moraga.

Panhellenic to Hold Meeting Next Friday

The first fall meeting of the Contra Costa Panhellenic Group will be held next Friday at 2 p.m. Representatives will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Seulberger, president, 3808 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette.

Representatives from college and university sorority alumnae groups are invited and may contact Mrs. Hans Beetz, secretary, for further information.

There will be a report on fall rushing and the rush file by Mrs. M. A. Hall of Orinda.

Recommendations chairmen Mrs. Harold Hollister and Mrs. H. G. Noack will assist with refreshments.

Juniors Are Busy With Activities

Many philanthropic projects are scheduled for the coming months by the members of the Junior Women's Club of Walnut Creek.

On October 26 the club members will donate home-baked goods to a Bake Sale at Holbrook Height's Louis Store in Concord.

The sale is sponsored by the Parent's Association for the Visually Handicapped of East Contra Costa County. It will benefit the Visually Handicapped class at Buena Vista School in Walnut Creek.

The Juniors are currently addressing 10,000 envelopes for the Polio Foundation. On October 30-31 club members will stuff envelopes for the Tuberculosis Association at the County Health office in Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. William Hull, finance chairman, announced that her committee is supplying a complete wardrobe for a walking doll to be featured in a special event in December.

Club members recently served as hostesses for the Junior Sportnight at the Recreation Center in Walnut Creek.

A successful Barbeque Sandwich booth at the Walnut Festival raised $400 for the club's philanthropies.

Crown Circle Officers Set Installation

Mrs. Russell Usinger of Orinda will be installed as president of Crown Circle of King's Daughters Wednesday. Mrs. Fred Fox will serve as hostess in her new home, 23 Ardilla Road, Orinda.

Following the installation of officers, final organizational plans for the November 9 rummage sale will be discussed, according to Mrs. Leonard Clevenger, retiring president.

Serving with Mrs. Usinger this year will be: Mrs. Fox, vice president; Mrs. H. J. Hart, Orinda, secretary; Mrs. W. B. Marschner, Walnut Creek, treasurer.

In addition to serving as president of Crown Circle this year, Mrs. Usinger was installed as second vice president of the Northern convention held in Oakland early this month.

Ruth Pellett Is President Of Local BPW

A regular meeting of the Walnut Creek Professional and Business Women's Club was held on Tuesday, at Stan's Brick House.

President is Ruth Pellett, vice president Thelma Mielenz, treasurer Fay Teskey, recording secretary Peggy Gross.

Corresponding secretary is Betty De Bois, parlimentarian Jan Bru, auditor Eleanor Indridson and flag bearer Florence Chericoni.

Heidi Unit Has 'Ball' at Tea

October 10 was a big day for Heidi members, of the Children's Home Society. Some 800 guests were greeted at their ninth annual luncheon and fashion show given at the Castlewood Country Club.

Smartly dressed women began gathering in the spacious lounge of the club at noon and then assembled at the autumn decorated tables for the fall event titled "Tis Autumn." Mrs. J. P. Herrmann and Mrs. Earl Plescia were responsible for the golden horns of plenty filled with lovely dried arrangements.

Greetings were extended by Mrs. Robert Lockey, Heidi president, attired in a becoming black and white outfit, and Mrs. Fred Costello, general party chairman, attired in blue and fuschia.

Little Janet Hicks, lead the models as the traditional Heidi girl and also helped Mrs. Gilbert Myers select the lucky winners. The very lovely mink stole was won by Bruna Stoltz of Oakland; a week end for two at the Double Dee Guest Ranch went to Mrs. Walter Phillips of Walnut Creek, and a pair of blankets to Mrs. Alec Arrighi of Lafayette.

The show was commentated by Marilyn Wissing and modeled by 12 lovely ladies in clothes from Saks Fifth Avenue.

All proceeds from this party go to the Children's Home Society, which is a member of the United Crusade, to further its work in properly placing children available for adoption. The Children's Home is a statewide agency, now in its 66th year, and serves all races and creeds. Maintained through voluntary contributions and its numerous chapters the C. H. S. helps to give a child his own home and his own parents.

VARIETY, they say, is the spice of life. Certainly there's plenty of variety for local-area members of the Fir Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, as they prepare for coming events. Left to right, Mrs. Don Laston and Mrs. J. F. Byrne of Lafayette and Mrs. Kenneth Humphreys of Orinda admire glitter-decoration and sniff appreciatively at the contents of chafing dish. It's all in anticipation of Fir Branch's "Gracious Living Teas" at the Lake Merritt Sailboat House—"Holiday Decorations" next Wednesday and "Cooking with Herbs" November 20.

300 View Jewels Display At Gala Champagne Event

The sparkle of elegant formal jewelry and the pale gold and delicate pink of festive champagnes, combined with the glamour of luxurious furs and chic gowns of women guests at the Valley Art Center "Champagne and Blue Velvet" fall benefit in the Frank M. Cashin home in Walnut Creek last Saturday evening, made the ingredients of a most successful event for the cultural organization of Diablo Valley.

More than 300 members and their guests had viewed the displays and tasted the champagnes of Almaden, Paul Masson and Weibel wineries on the opening day of National Wine Week before the evening's rain fell.

Many of the participants, from San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley, the Peninsula and Marin County joined Art Center members for private dinner parties or the Diablo Cotillion after the early evening festivities.

A contingent of exhibitors was entertained at the William Wilkinsons', Orinda, whose guests also included Messrs. and Mesdames Parker Stock, Gordon Lindburg, Burton Curtis and John Parks, Orinda, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chamberlain, Oakland.

Jewelry exhibitors were Kay Lane, Gretchen McAllister, Merry Renk, Peter Macarini, and Nanny's, San Francisco; Sally and Byron Wilson and LeRoy King, Oakland; Anne Petray and David Eichorn, Berkeley; Elizabeth Cobb, Martinez; Dr. David Harris, Danville, and Mrs. Peter Howard, Walnut Creek.

Members bound for the Diablo Cotillion added a note of glamour in their gay party garb. Mrs. Edmund Barnett, Lafayette, was attired in gold silk flecked with color in a gown fashioned from an Indian sari. Mrs. Mel Nielsen, Lafayette, who wore gray tissue taffeta, greeted guests at the door.

Mrs. Michael Czaja, Walnut Creek, wore a gray suit adorned with black braid edging acquired in Malaga, Spain, during the Czajas' seven months' stay in the European Mediterranean last spring and summer while Czaja, former president of Valley Art Center, had sabbatical leave from his duties as professor of architecture at the University of California.

Among other recently returned travelers seen admiring jewelry, Orville J. Kuhn's rare gun collection and Walter Ruedrich's display of gold nuggets from the Mother Lode country were Dr. and Mrs. Bill J. Harris, Lafayette, who toured Europe.

They joined Mr. and Mrs. Richard Graves, Lafayette, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Ellis for supper afterward.

Forrest Englehart, Clayton, in Mexico for the past three months, visited many points of art interest while traveling with his son and daughter; and Dr. Joseph Lorber, Lafayette, was enthusiastic about a flight last week which included Manila, Singapore and Hong Kong.

Mrs. Frank Cashin, the hostess, was attractive in a brown wool fall ensemble. Mrs. J. Gordon Ainsworth's costume, in keeping with the event, was wine and black brocade taffeta. J. Gordon Ainsworth, general chairman, celebrated his birthday as well as the opening of National Wine Week with dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brock Jr., Orinda.

Mrs. Wendell Spackman, Orinda, whose week had been devoted to the San Francisco Internationence in San Francisco, chose a al Industrial Development Conferlight gray wool for the occasion.

Other guests included Messrs. and Mesdames William R. Zion and W. W. Scott, Lafayette; William Barrie, Robert Thamen, and Donn Sigerson, Orinda; E. G. Leaf and Donald Coffin, Concord; Stan Welch, Martinez; Frederick Drews, Piedmont; Charles Preston Hunt Jr., Mill Valley; Mr. Frank Brown, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clough and Dr. and Mrs. Howard Flanders, Walnut Creek.

Tea Set by Fir Branch

The second in a series of three "Gracious Living Teas" will be hosted by members of Fir Branch (Children's Hospital of the East Bay) at Lake Merritt Sailboat House on Wednesday. This event will be entitled, "Holiday Decorations" and will feature two women who are well known in this field: Mrs. Paul A. Bidstrup and Mrs. Orrin A. Richards.

The third and last event of the series will be held November 20. It is entitled "Cooking With Herbs" and will feature the preparation of savory dishes by the representative of a spice company (Spice Islands).

Among those working to make this series a successful benefit for the Children's Hospital of the East Bay, are: Mrs. D. W. Laston, Mrs. Wm. Snyder, Mrs. Robert Cleghorn, Mrs. Gordon Smith, Mrs. Robert Leffman and Mrs. J. F. Byrne of Lafayette; Mrs. Kenneth Humphries of Orinda and Mrs. Dennis Horgan of Walnut Creek.

Following each of the lectures, tea will be served, and tickets for the series may be purchased from any Branch member, or by contacting Mrs. John Ernst of Oakland.

Tanager Unit Guest Meeting Discusses Plans

The fall guest meeting of the Tanager Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center was held recently at the St. Stephen's Drive home of Mrs. David Coleman in Orinda. There was a short social period during which dessert was served from the buffet table, which was attractively decorated in a fall motif.

Guests at the meeting included Mesdames William Curtis, Dick Dildine, Henry Harris, Lee Hink Jr., Victor Kingston, Paul C. Moore, Richard Myer, Stanley Nightengale, John L. Pearson and Jim Prince, who were introduced individually by each sponsor.

The business part of the evening, conducted by Mrs. James Seaman, president, covered final details for the Christmas Gift Box items made by the Tanager members (as well as by members from the other units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center) and organization of work crews to sort and pile papers which are collected at the Village Fire Station. The sale of these papers is one of the Tanager projects to benefit the Therapy Center.

Also discussed was the Fun Party for Tanager members and their husbands held at the Sleepy Hollow Lane home of the Stanley Majkas under the chairmanship of Mrs. Andrew Catherall.

Meadowbrook's Halloween Ball Being Planned

Party invitations are out to members of Meadowbrook Golf Club for a celebration of the eve of All Saints on Saturday, October 26. The clubhouse and grounds in Reliez Valley will be transformed into "Crooked Stick Hollow" on that night; hence the caption "Hallowe'en Ball" for the dance.

Music for dancing will begin at 8:30, although the grand march will take place at 10:30 during which judges will decide on winning costumes. Prizes will be awarded for funniest, pun-iest, scariest and hairiest costumes.

A midnight supper will be served to members and guests.

General chairmen of the ball are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barber of Lafayette. Committee chairmen include Messrs. and Mesdames Tilford Klinefelter, refreshments; Forrest Ehlers and Bernard Biesbroeck, decorations and prizes; Dr. and Mrs. William Walton, reservations; Messrs. and Mesdames Philip Dirks, William Delaney, James DeKorne and Lawrence Dodge, arrangements.

Alpha Xi Deltas Plan Meeting

Diablo Valley Alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta will hold its monthly meeting on Monday at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Gordon Hughes, 201 San Antonio Way, Walnut Creek.

President, Mrs. Robert R. Gammon, reminds members to bring plants and cuttings and some extra change for the annual auction.

Also to be discussed will be plans for the local philanthropy projects, this year to include assistance in furnishing supplies for the integrated braille and sight-saving classes at Buena Vista School, Walnut Creek.

Officers for the 1957-1958 year include Mrs. R. R. Gammon, Lafayette, President; Mrs. Robert Smith, Concord, Vice President; Mrs. Phillip Chance, Lafayette, Recording Secretary; Mrs. J. Forni, Lafayette, Corresponding Secretary; and Mrs. Susan Burkhard, Concord, Treasurer.

Sigma Kappa Alumnae Meet

The new and fast-growing Diablo Valley Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Kappa met at the home of Mrs. John Fontenrose Oct. 8.

J. F. Clopton, guest speaker, gave an instructive talk on the Lynn School and other facilities in this area pertaining to mentally retarded children.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to discussing plans for many interesting projects to be carried out during the coming year.

Football Frolic Is Tomorrow

Diablo Country Club will be the setting for the "Football Frolic" tomorrow night to be given by the Parents Club of Miramonte High School.

Tickets, which are $3 per couple, are still available through Mrs. Arthur Henry of Orinda.

Henry Gallagher and his orchestra will supply the music for the informal affair; hours will be from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Funds taken in will be used to purchase some of the many items of equipment for which a new school is in need.

CRESTVIEW JUNIOR and Senior memberships will dance at the Diablo Country Club tomorrow night. Making preparations for the event are Mesdames Norman Malone, Edward McPherson, Carl Olson, and seated, Mrs. William Thomson.

Miss Pasquini Weds Severson In Orinda Rites

Carol Leanne Pasquini became the bride of Gerald Merton Severson recently at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda.

The bride is a graduate of Acalanes High and San Jose State College and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy L. Pasquini of Rahara Drive, Lafayette.

Her bridegroom was a member of Delta Upsilon at San Jose and is the son of Mrs. Adolph Severson of Loleta and the late Mr. Severson.

The Rev. Albert Lucas conducted the service, and the bride was attended by Mrs. Robert Conroy as matron of honor, Mrs. John Meyer as secondary attendants. They wore full skirted beige satin with matching pearl crowns holding beige veils, and carried cascade bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom's brother, Richard, was his best man, and ushers were three DU fraternity brothers, Jim Marks of Woodland, William Booth of Turlock and Alex Stepovich of Los Gatos.

The bride's young cousins, Bonnie and Terry MacPhail, passed the bags of rice and were in charge of the guest book.

The reception took place at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Pasquini was in a sheath of cocoa brown lace over taffeta, with cymbidium orchids, and the bridegroom's mother was in a knit jacket dress of a medium green shade, with butterfly orchids.

Hadassah Holds Social Event

The first social event for members of the recently formed Diablo Valley Chapter of Hadassah and their husbands was held last Saturday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Isidore Perlman, 1158 Glen Road, Lafayette.

Dr. and Mrs. Perlman made their home and gardens available for an old-fashioned barbecue prepared by a committee headed by Mrs. James Spitz and assisted by Mrs. Emil Jensen.

The evening started with cocktails and a social hour and was followed by dinner. Entertainment followed, including talk by Dr. Perlman on his recent trip to Israel. Later the group enjoyed folk songs and community singing.

In spite of a rainy evening 79 people attended, and everyone agreed the party was a huge success.

Pat Courtright, Donald Garrett Wed in Orinda

White satin bows tied to the pews lined the aisle of St. Stephens Episcopal Church in Orinda for the evening ceremony recently at which Patricia Jane Courtright and Donald Davis Garrett were married.

Pat, as the bride is called, is the daughter of the William G. Courtrights of La Madronal, Orinda. At Acalanes High School she was a member of the Fantasia group of the Children's Home Society. Her bridegroom is also an Acalanes and East Contra Costa Junior College graduate.

He is the son of the Wendall Garretts of Beechwood Drive, Lafayette.

The Rev. Albert Lucas officiated at the service.

She wore floor length tulle and Chantilly lace over satin; the bouffant tulle skirt having a front lace panel. A crown of seed pearls and sequins held her fingertip silk illusion veil. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and white phalaenopsis orchids.

Her attendants, all Orinda girls, were Jeraldine Moriarty as honor maid, and Natalie Pray, Judith Ann Courtright, Judith Ann Parker, Karen Rhoda. They were in ballerina length chiffon, Jeraldine in a wild rose shade, the others in shrimp color, with draped bodices and flowing back panels. They carried chartreuse spider chrysanthemums.

Gerald Garrett of San Lorenzo was best man, and seating guests were Lyle Jensen of Walnut Creek. Roger Moore of Orinda, Gerald Beck of Lafayette and Dale Beck of Pleasant Hill.

Shop at home and save!

Gamma Phis Stage Book Tea

The Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae of this area entertained friends October 10, at a Book Tea in the home of Mrs. George T. Burroughs, 36 Miner Road, Orinda.

Tea and refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. M. R. West of Bel Air Drive.

In the garden of Mrs. Burrough's home many categories of used books were displayed for sale; and, in addition, Mrs. Karl Palmaer arranged through the San Francisco News Publication Department for many of the newest Christmas publications in children's literature.

All funds resulting from the sale of these books shall benefit the Contra Costa Juvenile Hall, which is the local philanthropic endeavor of Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae.

Dance Plans Are Progressing

Busily engaged in preparations for the third annual Autumn Dance of the St. Mary's College Alumni Association is the Alumni Wives Committee for the Mt. Diablo Chapter.

Chairman of the committee is Mrs. Robert Hagler of Walnut Creek. Assisting her are Mmes. Robert Osborne and John Rarig of Lafayette, Walter Thomas of Pleasant Hill, Dennis Garrehy and Harld Libbey of Orinda and Gerald Fitzpatrick of Concord.

The dance will be held October 25 at the Leamington Hotel in Oakland with music by Del Courtney and his orchestra. More than 300 couples are expected to attend. Numerous cocktail parties and dinners will precede the affair, according to Mrs. Hagler.

AN AIR FORCE WIFE is Sandra Jane Humble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John (Chubby) Humble of Clayton Valley. She married Lt. James Bagnall of El Centro in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek. They will live in Laredo, Texas.

—Ted Gurney Photo

Sandra is Wife of Air Force Pilot

The romance of being an Air Force wife began for Sandra Jane Humble of Concord October 6, when she was married to Lt. James Risley Bagnall of El Centro, who is a jet instructor.

The ceremony was performed in St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Walnut Creek, by Rev. Wilfred Hodgkin. Soloist was Sharon Eggerts of Walnut Creek.

Sandra wore a white Italian silk organza with short chapel train. She carried a prayer book given by her grandmother, lilies of the valley, orchids and a feather from her mother's bridal bouquet.

She was attended by Miss Jill Boag, of Carmel, maid of honor, Miss Katherine Delaney of Pasadena, and Mrs. William Bedard of Berkeley.

Best man was the groom's father, Don Bagnall, and ushers were Ensign Larry Johnson of Tibouron, Calif., Lt. John Howard of Corona, and Mr. Kirby Dawson of Salt Lake City.

Sandra graduated from Acalanes High School and attended Occidental College in Los Angeles.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Randall (Chubby) Humble of Clayon Valley.

The couple will live in Laredo, Texas.

Carol Robbins, Richard Brough Are Engaged

The engagement of Miss Carol Robbins, Mills College junior, to Richard Wayne Brough of Orinda, was announced recently by the bride-elect's parents, Judge and Mrs. Edwin L. Jenkins of Hillsboro, Oregon.

A local announcement was made at Mills College October 2, at the weekly formal dinner in Miss Robbins' campus residence, Orchard Meadow Hall. Following college tradition, a candle was passed among the girls and blown out by the bride-elect. Classmates Sandra Ong and June Self passed candy.

A graduate of Hillsboro (Oregon) Union High School, Miss Robbins is majoring in child development at Mills.

The prospective bridegroom is enrolled in pre-dental studies at St. Mary's College, Moraga.

The couple plan a summer wedding.

Omega Nu's Back Own Candidates

"Heaven in '57" was the theme of the Omega Nu conclave in Modesto last weekend.

Representing Walnut Creek's Alpha Lambda chapter as official delegates were Chapter President Mrs. Walter Hutchinson and Past President Mrs. Robert Fitch.

About eight chapter members and their husbands attended the weekend festivities. Mrs. Edward Slater, a past president of Alpha Lambda chapter, has been nominated for the Grand Council office of senior vice president.

Mrs. Slater has previously held the office of grand junior vice president and grand guard.

Orinda AFS To Present 'Hi-Styles'

A favorite fund-raiser of the Orinda Orioles Unit is its bridge luncheon parties which are held from time to time to furnish extra funds for the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

At the October 9 meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Addison Thompson, final plans were formulated for the forthcoming bridge gathering to be held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Berry, 145 Lombardy Lane, Orinda, on Wednesday, October 30.

Members who will assist as hostesses at the function, with cards to follow a noon luncheon, are Mesdames E. K. McLaren, Roy Stuart, Kenneth Stringer, John Boyen and Ted Dyer. Additional reservations are being taken by Mrs. Berry. There are only a few tables left.

Groves-Perry Are Married

Frances Laura Groves became the bride of Edward Franklin Perry in an informal ceremony in the garden of the bride's parents in Orinda recently.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Groves, 25 Camino Encinas, Orinda, and he is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Perry of Marysville.

Kappa Delta Alumnae Will Meet Thursday

The Contra Costa Alumnae of Kappa Delta will hold their monthly meeting at noon next Thursday at the home of the chairman, Mrs. R. A. Sodestrom, 12 Richard Court, Orinda.

Members are asked to bring a sandwich. Coffee and dessert will be furnished.

Plans for the fall dessert-fashion show will be discussed.

Anyone interested in attending next Thursday's meeting is asked to call Mrs. Soderstrom.

Sigma Kaps Fete New Cal Pledges

Thirty-one new pledges of Lambda Chapter of Sigma Kappa at the University of California were honored by Eastbay and Contra Costa alumnae at a dessert party September 30.

The home of Mrs. Scott Beamer of Seaview Avenue, Piedmont, was the setting for the party, and Mrs. William King was chairman. Advisory board members assisted the hostess in receiving: Mrs. Henry Schacht, rush advisor; Mrs. William Greig, Mrs. H. G. Noack, Mrs. Walter Kolasa, Marjorie Andriesse and Mrs. Robert H. Judd.

Local girls pledged to Sigma Kappa are Vivian Googins and Judith Monroe of Orinda, graduates of Acalanes High School, and Mary Walden of Concord.

Local Singers Will Perform At Police Ball

Shari Anne Farris of Lafayette, Sharon Eggerts of Walnut Creek and Sue Roberts of Concord, along with Tom Silva from Berkeley, will perform as vocalists at the Concord policemen's ball Saturday night, October 26, at the National Guard Armory on Willow Pass Road, Concord.

They were selected from a group of the finalists at the El Nido Talent Contests in Lafayette, by Maurice Anger of Orinda, orchestra leader at El Nido, and Gordon Heche of Orinda, another well-known band leader.

Music at the Concord policemen's ball will be played by Gordon Heche and his 12-piece orchestra.

Silva is a bridge engineer on the Walnut Creek bypass project. Sue Roberts is a Mt. Diablo High School senior. Shari Anne Farris is an instructor at the Arthur Murray dance studio in Walnut Creek. Sharon Eggerts is a kindergarten teacher at the Springhill and Montecito Schools, Lafayette.

Again we say
THANK YOU!
Your Continued Patronage Has Made it Necessary For Us To Expand
FOR THE SECOND TIME THIS YEAR

Honestly, our growth has been so tremendous that even our new facilities weren't adequate; so we have set up an additional show room in an adjoining building! We now have TWO show rooms and a used car lot more than double its original size. More than doubled, too, have been our parts and service sales for both new and used cars.

NOW ON DISPLAY
NEW 1958 XK150 JAGUAR COUPE
featuring disc brakes on all four wheels
Also for a limited time

EBMUD Receives Highest Safety Award For State

The East Bay Municipal Utility District has received the highest safety award of the State Compensation Insurance Fund, Earl R. Howard, general manager of the fund, announced today.

Howard stated that the EBMUD is the first recipient of the Gold Seal award for outstanding performance in the field of safety. The award, he said, is reserved by the State Compensation Insurance Fund for those industrial firms which are able to achieve one million man-hours worked without a lost-time accident.

Jerry Rocha Is Fliers' Champion

The Academy of Model Aeronautics today announced that the grand champion in the Diablo Fliers third quarter free flight model airplane contest is Jerry Rocha, 1133 Garden Lane, Lafayette.

David Rader and Robert Stelle were individual winners in the large Class "A" free flight contest. Radar's airplane was lost as it climbed out of sight on a rising air current.

The Diablo Fliers hold their monthly meetings at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center on the second Friday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

Motion pictures on recent contests and airplanes as well as model aircraft technical discussions are presented. The Diablo Fliers are accepting new members. Application can be made at the monthly meeting November 11.

Prizes for the monthly contest were donated by local businessmen sponsoring this chapter of the Academy of Model Aeronautics. They are the Yankee Sports Shop in Danville, Tots 'n Teens in Walnut Creek, and Don's Model Shop of Walnut Creek.

Rare Lace Gift Given College

Hand woven over 300 years ago, a rare piece of bobbin lace from Italy has been donated to St. Mary's College by Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lillienthal of Hillsborough.

The gift was exhibited recently by Brother S. Robert, professor of philosophy at St. Mary's, who received the lace from the Lillienthals.

A Tribute To Our Firemen!

When fire breaks out at four o'clock in the morning, your alert hook-and-ladder guardians are instantly on the job. Heroically, and ofttimes tragically, these brave men in helmets think only of YOU, your family, and the protection of your property. The Fireman is an integral part of our City Government. He must be always physically fit. He must respond without hesitation at the clang of the bell. Night and day, summer and winter, he must be on call to fight the flames and scale the towering ladder. He is a man of ACTION, upon whom all of us depend. We salute his bravery and commend his faithfulness.

Dons Hogtie Rams 39-26 on Grid

Underdog Acalanes Strikes For Second League Victory

In a wild and wooly football game that found scoring in every quarter, the Acalanes Dons registered their second league win and handed the Pleasant Hill Rams their second league loss when they outlasted and outscored them 39-26 in a league game played under the lights of Acalanes Memorial Field last Friday night.

THE RAMS opened the game with a bang when fullback Dan Ipson, on the second play, zoomed like a rocket ship off tackle, cut outside and went all the way to the goal 75 yards away without a hand being laid on him.

Roger Leonard barged over left tackle for the extra point.

The Dons came back to even the count when fullback Stuart Busby tok a screen pass and went 45 yards to score and then booted the conversion to tie it up at 7 all.

Pleasant Hill exploded for a pair of touchdowns and one extra point in the second canto. Leonard got 6 when he hit off tackle for 25 and Tom Larscheid put on a burst of speed to skirt end for 10 and a score.

WITH SECONDS in the half left, the Dons got in the scoring column when Ram quarterback Dud Buffa faded to his right to pass.

Dwaine Stultz, Acalanes end, hit him, knocking the ball loose and end Steve Jorden grabbed it off and ran 40 yards to score. One Ram defender got him by the shirt-tail but couldn't hold the 190-pound end who carried the ball and defender over the goal line.

This time Busby's conversion kick missed and it was 20-13 in favor of the Rams at half time.

Each club scored once in the opening quarter of the second half.

LARSCHEID took it over from the one after a sustained drive but the conversion try missed and the Dons picked up a point when, on a drive on their own, they brought it to the four and Busby crashed over tackle.

The drive covered 50 yards in 12 plays. Busby split the cross bar on the kick and the Rams were ahead 26-20.

It was the Dons in the fourth period, however, as they held the Rams while racking up three touchdowns of their own.

OPENING THE final period Acalanes marched 70 yards with Lou Marello going over right tackle for the final four yards.

Busby converted again and it put the Dons ahead for the first time 27-26.

Busby added another TD when he galloped 50 yards down the right sideline to the three. Mike Latone took it over on the next play.

In the closing seconds of the game halfback Mike Latone took full advantage of a block by guard Art Batchelder and went 50 yards to score.

ACALANES WAS penalized on the conversion try and the ball went back to the 17 from where the conversion was made good for the Don's 39th point and the final one of the game.

The Rams presented a potent ground attack as attested to by the fact that they rolled for 338 yards on the ground, as compared to 320 for the Dons.

In the pass department it was 16 yards for the Rams while Acalanes had 15 yards.

As for first downs, the Rams racked up 14 to Acalanes' 16.

Pirates, Dons Vie Tonight On Local Grid

The Acalanes Dons face the Pittsburg Pirates on the local gridiron tonight and both clubs go in the game with unblemished league records.

Both teams lost their practice openers—the Dons to ARlhambra and the Pirates to Monterey.

Each won its next practice game—the Dons over San Ramon while Pitt dumped a private school in the West Bay.

In their league opener the Pirates edged Pleasant Hill 7-6 while Acalanes measured Antioch by a narrow 6-0 margin.

Last week Pittsburg drew a bye while Acalanes came through the hard way to down a rough and ready Pleasant Hill eleven 39-26.

Both clubs will be shooting for the win tonight in order to stay on the top rung of the league standings.

The Dons have the advantage if any, of home field and only a hurricane could prevent the largest crowd of the season from being on hand.

The Pirates' forte is defense with a good offense in the offing if the speedy backs are given room to run.

Stuart Busby was at his best last Friday night and played up to form. Last year he tookw all-county football honors.

Jim Holden, up and coming sophomore guard and linebacker won a starting spot because of his outstanding performance of the past two weeks.

The Dons' backfield has explosive power with runners like Busby, Bob Murello, Lou Murello, Dave Boiarsky and George McMeans, who goes equally well as a running back or quarter.

Crystal Ball Picks 'em-- Here They Are!

The crystal ball was a bit hazy last week as the old professor picked but one out of three league games in the Diablo Valley Athletic League.

He picked Las Lomas over Diablo correctly, but missed when the Acalanes eleven toppled the Pleasant Hill Rams and then Antioch beat Pacifica in an upset.

The league is as rough as a corn cob to pick as there isn't a club that's "sure pickings" in the circuit.

The Pleasant Hill Rams are recuperating from their loss to the Dons and figure to have too much offense for Pacifica. Tab them to cop their first league win—the Rams, 27-13.

The Dons are getting tougher each week—Pitt is never easy—a rough go—a draw, 13-13.

Diablo Red Devils have a club that can drop anyone on any given night.

Antioch dedicates its new field with a loss—Diablo 20, Antioch 6.

Miramonte Junior Varsity plays Las Lomas this afternoon—Miramonte, 7-6.

John Innes Is First to Make Hole-in-One

John Innes, son of members Mr. and Mrs. George Innes of Orinda, has the distinction of being the first golfer to make a hole-in-one on the Meadowbrook Golf Club course.

On October 5 John, playing with his parents, sank a tee shot on the third hole of Meadowbrook, using an eight-iron. The number 3 hole is a hilly 115-yard par 3 hole.

John is 19 years old and attends Contra Costa Junior College.

Knights Scout Tonight After Beating Diablo

The Las Lomas Knights will confine their activities tonight to scouting, as they draw the league bye.

The rest will no doubt be most welcome as it will give Coach George De Klotz a chance to "mend his fences" for next week's big one with Pittsburg.

The Knights are undefeated to date, and included in their wins are a pair of league goes.

They rapped San Ramon and but good in a practice tilt, were rained out of the Piedmont game, toppled Pacifica's Spartans 34-18, then eked out a 13-7 win over Diablo at Concord last Friday night.

THE PACIFICA and Diablo games were both league games, and as such put the Knights at the top of the standings, along with Acalanes and Pittsburg.

No doubt the Knight coaches and players alike will concentrate for the most part on taking in the Acalanes - Pittsburg game — they meet Pitt next, and Acalanes in the season's finals.

The Knights' grid machine hasn't hit on all cylinders since the San Ramon game due to injuries and the "flu."

MOST OF THE SQUAD was back last Monday, although not at full strength. Three players were still reported missing.

First string quarterback Steve Moore was out, as was end Randy Olson and guard Rick Kraemer. It was expected all hands would be on hand by the end of the week.

A stout defense and heads-up football that took advantage of every break spelled victory for the Knights last Friday night at Concord when they defeated the Diablo Devils 13-7.

DIABLO SHOT to an early lead when Jeff Beaubin's kick was taken by Diablo quarterback Al Allison. He streaked to the left and reversed the ball to halfback Gary Casey, who went 68 yards to score.

Al Trette kicked the conversion, and it was 7-0.

In the second quarter the Knights got into the scoring act when guard Rick Kraemer recovered a Diablo fumble on their own 38.

Eight plays brought the pigskin to the three, and halfback Jim Hemstalk drove three yards up the middle for the big 6. End Clark Ransome's kick was wide of the uprights.

THE TEAMS BATTLED back and forth until late in the second quarter, when Diablo drove to the Las Lomas eleven, at which point the gun went off, denoting the half.

Neither club could get going with any sustained drive in the third period.

The Knights decided the issue in the final quarter when they put together a 7-yard drive that took eight plays. A 38-yard pass from quarterback Don Hopkins to end Ransome brought the ball to Diablo's 14-yard line.

HALFBACK Cecil Adams got the big one when he skirted right end and Ransome didn't miss the conversion this time, to bring the score to 13-7.

Diablo took to the air in desperation, but Hemstalk intercepted the second aerial try, and time ran out with the knights on the Devil 3-yard line.

Diablo led in first downs, 9-7, and had 14 yards rushing to the winner's 94. Diablo completed two out of nine passes for 31 yards, while the Knights had 76 yards on 11 tosses.

Cross Country Team of Dons Romps to Wins

The Acalanes Don thinclads have been hard at it over hill and dale the past few weeks and as a result Coach Charles Eaton's cross-country team is undefeated in four meets, at this writing.

It has defeated Las Lomas, San Ramon, Pacifica and East Contra Costa Junior College twice.

In their most recent meet the Dons measured the Pacifica Spartans 16-44, while the JV runners won 15-46. Both meets took place at Acalanes.

Yesterday they met Miramonte at Miramonte.

A county meet is set for Pacifica on October 31, and another big date is a meet at East Contra Costa Junior College between the Diablo Valley League and the Alameda County Athletic League.

November 15 finds the North Coast Trials Stanford, with the finals on November 22.

Marines Plan Anniversary Fete

East Bay Marine Corps Reserve officers are going to hold their first group celebration of the Marine Corps birthday with a dinner dance November 9 at Lafayette.

The Corps will be 182 years old November 10, which falls on Sunday. Traditionally, unless they are in a fight, Marines celebrate around the world. At posts and stations, a formal birthday ball is the order of the day. Aboard ship, at embassies and in other small detachments the Leathernecks eat cake and hold a formation to hear the annual message of rededication to their country's service.

Sponsoring the East Bay celebration is Volunteer Training Unit 12-29 of Walnut Creek, commanded by Lt. Col. L. G. Madsen of 1521 Brooks Street, Walnut Creek. Capt. John Janney of 3983 Rancho Road, Lafayette, is accepting reservations until November 1. The birthday party will be at El Nido restaurant, Lafayette.

"Invitations are being sent to 20 officers," said Madsen, "and dress blues, with white cap cover, are optional. This is the one occasion when Marines have a chance to show off, regardless of how beautiful their wives might be. We expect at sellout."

Duck Limit Set At Nine Birds

This year's duck limit is nine birds, one less than last year, the California Department of Fish and Game warned duck hunters today.

Shooters oiling up their guns for waterfowl season were reminded that the basic bag and possession limit this year is six birds, plus an additional three sprig (pintails) or widgeon, for a total of nine ducks altogether.

Last year's total limit was 10 birds.

But while the 1957-58 limit is one bird less, the season will be 15 days longer, the scattergunners were consoled. This year's season runs straight through October 12 to January 14, the Department said.

Panthers Claw Spartans 16-7

The Antioch Panthers put together a touchdown and safety in the first half to leave the field last Friday night with a 9-0 half time lead over Pacifica. Antioch came back in the second half to trip Sparta to the tune of 16-7.

Pacifica fought back in the second half to score on a 30-yard run by halfback Ivan Perkins late in the third quarter and it was 9-7 when guard Diego Haro kicked the conversion through the posts.

Antioch sewed it up in the final quarter on a 60 yard drive that took 10 plays to score—the final 12 yards was covered when quarter Gil Cerventez hit end Don Rodgers on the one and from there Fullback Ralph Foy took it into paydirt bringing the count to 16-7 and that's the way it ended.

Matadors Are Undefeated -- But No Wins!

The Junior Varsity football team of Miramonte remains undefeated in league play. On the other hand, they have yet to win a game.

Last Friday the Matadors traveled to Pittsburg for a 0-0 standoff, the second of the year for Miramonte. Both teams had trouble moving the ball during the entire game, due to rain and nervousness.

Missing from the Miramonte lineup was Bicky Clifford, a junior fullback, out with an injured foot, and end Dick Hanlin, who has a pulled tendon in his leg. Both have been regular starters.

The team has been strengthened by the return of all-purpose man Bob Hudson. Last year Hudson started at end and this year he is a quarterback.

Good solid games were turned in last Friday by a pair of alternates—halfbacks Charley Blue, a promising sophomore, and hard-working Mark Gentry.

Today's game at Las Lomas will be a tough battle but the Matadors should step into the winning column.

Class Ring Rites Set for Willows By St. Mary's

The Orinda Willows will be the scene of an innovation in St. Mary's social history tonight when members of the junior class conduct a class ring presentation dance.

At a special ceremony during the evening, rings will be formally presented to members of the class by Brother Lawrence, F.S.C., professor of biology at St. Mary's and moderator of the junior class.

In former years, the official Gael rings were ordered during the first semester of the junior year and distributed, without ceremony, during or just prior to the Christmas holidays.

A buffet dinner will precede Friday's affair, which is under the chairmanship of Don Murphy of San Francisco. Assisting him are Richard Hill of Fontana, junior class president, and a promotion committee made up of Karl Geletich of Oakland, Tom Bertain, Scotia; and Brian McCarthy, Berkeley.

Mrs. Cameron On Non-Stop Record Flight

A Trans-World Airlines Super Constellation "Jetstream" set a record October 7 on a non-stop flight over the North Pole from Los Angeles to London.

It touched down 17 hours 11 minutes after takeoff and would have made it 45 minutes faster were it not for London's fog.

Among the 40 passengers and 11 crewmen aboard was Mrs. Gladys Cameron, branch manager of Worden Travel Service in Walnut Creek, who was on a familiarization tour.

H.S. Parents Receive Copies Of New Bulletin

Acalanes High School District parents with students at Miramonte, Acalanes and Las Lomas High Schools have received copies of The Blackboard, district parent bulletin published for the school year.

The current issue of The Blackboard outlines the district-wide reading development program, bus operating procedures, plans for district expansion to meet enrollment growth and other articles of parent interest.

Cross-Country, C-D Hoop Are Both in Full Swing

By Erwin Mattson

A pair of items in sports that are not drawing too much attention at the present time are C-D basketball and cross-country.

Both activities are in full swing, and while football gets the headlines, each is of vital interest to those who are taking part, and what's more important, will pay dividends in the not-too-distant future.

Distance runners build up endurance in the fall running. Coach Charles Eaton of Acalanes is a track filbert of the first water and is a strong advocate of the cross-country runners.

One result, he claims, will be two mile runners this spring who will be close to 4 minutes, 30 seconds, which is traveling, even if you are going in circles.

C and D basketball gives the little fellows a chance, as well as providing the coach with an opportunity to develop skills and techniques—and surprisingly enough the little ones often become very big ones in time!

BELIEVE IT or not, football will be over in another month and the old hoop sport will take over the headlines—hardly seems possible.

One of the questions that always comes up during grid season is—"should a boy play football, and is night football good?"

The answer, and admittedly a predjudiced one as far as I am concerned, is yes and and no in the first case and yes in the second.

I say that certain boys demand and need contact sport due to their physical and mental makeup. The one who should decide the issue is the boy himself. If he has a keen desire and will to play, then he should.

On the other hand, one who doesn't, shouldn't. In my book it's just as wrong to put pressure on a boy to play as it is to deny the right to participate to one who wants and needs to.

Football's dangers are greatly overrated and exaggerated. Buy a kid some skates, or let him go skiing, and a broken bone is an accepted hazard. Let the same thing happen in football and it's a calamity.

LIGHTS ARE GOOD for a number of reasons. First, it is easier on the players—cool night air keeps them from getting fatigued and they play a better brand of football.

It gives parents and friends a chance to see the kids in action. It's important to both the parent and the player and creates a good relationship.

It enables football and other school activities to go a long way toward paying their own way.

Incidents of crowd misbehavior have been few and far between at Acalanes and other schools in the league. Like football injuries, such incidents are generally blown up out of all proportion to their importance.

Mon. Catering Snatches 4 Tilts From Men's Shop

It was all or nothing for most of the teams in the Tuesday Night Women's Handicap League at Monument Bowl.

The two top teams bowled against each other with Monument Catering coming out the winner by four points and Stone's Men's Wear dropping into a second place tie with Yellow Cab, who took all four points from Martin Brothers.

Farr's TV also was four from their opponents Union Ice Delivery. Kay's Coffee Shop and Woodside Builders tied.

Madelon Bailey of Monument Catering scored a 491 series, which is the record for the season, and a 184 game which was high for the evening.

Helen Gibson of Union Ice picked up a 5-10 split and Marley Antrous of Kay's the 3-10 split.

PH, Diablo JV Teams Win

The Pleasant Hill and Diablo Junior Varsity teams were the big winners over the week-end.

The Rams, under Coach Lyle Palmer, rocked and socked their way to an impressive 21-0 win over the Don Babes.

Halfback George Carter accounted for one touchdown, while fullback Roger Foulk tallied twice.

Diablo's Little Devils ran and passed to a 27-0 win over Las Lomas, while Pittsburg and Miramonte rounded out the schedule with an 0-0 draw.

Avon Nabs Three From Boot Shop

Avon Cosmetics took three games from Senior Junior Boot Shop to put them in first place with 15 games won and 5 lost at Monument.

Almo Jewlers won four from Blocks Trophies to boost Almo to second place, and only ½ game out of first. Navlet's and Farmers Market are now tied for third with 14 games won and 6 lost.

Dorris Dunbar took the spotlight for this week, bowling the highest game of 196 and bowled the highest series of the season, a 509. Char Ambrosoli still holds the highest game for the season, a 205.

Midget Races Are Re-scheduled For Tonight

Forty of the nation's foremost midget racing drivers, thwarted by rain last weekend, will compete in the 100-lap USAC national championship race re-scheduled for tonight at Contra Costa Speedway.

The postponement of last Saturday's event ended the auto racing myth that "the sun always shines on J. C. Agajanian."

The colorful Agajanian, co-promoting the Contra Costa race with Jack London, had never before been rained out in eight years of staging major auto races in Northern California.

Indications are that the delay will bring an even stronger list of entries than was first expected.

The midget race coincides with a Sacramento USAC race also programed for next weekend — which means that just about every top Indianapolis personality will be in this area to contest for the two big purses.

Maxon's Take 3 In Keg Clash

Jack Maxon's Texaco took three games from Holbrook Signal to move into first place with 11 wins 4 lost at Monument Bowl.
